PREFACE.

THE present volume completes the first portion of a work designed to supply the acknowledged want of an English Hymnal.

The omission, at the Reformation, of one entire portion of the ancient ritual treasured up in the Latin devotional books of Western Christendom—the source from which our Book of Common Prayer is derived—though necessary, could not be otherwise than injurious; and although the course which for a time involved this palpable loss to all who could understand the Latin Hymns, was the only apparent alternative for the avoiding of greater evils, it must be allowed that the translation into English of the really Catholic Hymns, in such wise as to be capable of being sung to the old Catholic tunes, was a work second only in importance to the translation of the Psalter, the Offices, and the Liturgy, and their adaptation to those holy strains in which, for many generations, the incense of Prayer and Praise had (with no material change from the forms of the early Church) ascended to the Throne of God.

The Reformers of the English Church, it is well known, desired that these Hymns should be translated, as well as other portions of the old Prayer Books. But it was not so easy a task to translate verse as prose into the “tongue understood of the people;” and although the English version of the “Veni Creator Spiritus” in the Ordering of Priests and Consecration of Bishops, as well as the subsequent printing of Withers’ Hymns (as it is asserted) by order of Convocation, are plain manifestations of the wishes of the Rulers of the Reformed English Church at two distinct periods of her history, that she should have an authorised Hymnody, yet the too general apathy, both of the clergy and of the laity, with regard to ritual matters, combined with that secularity and torpor, which are the natural results of the suppression of her discipline and legitimate government, have hitherto prevented any such expansion of her formularies by competent authority, as should include a definite and satisfactory provision for this important part of Christian worship.

The revival of Church principles, which has, by the grace of God, so materially altered the present condition and the future prospects of the English Communion, and of her affiliated Churches, has at length turned the attention of many of her sons to this long-neglected source of spiritual illumination and comfort. Individual exertions have been concentrated, and with the co-operation and under the sanction of the Ecclesiological

Society, an attempt has been made by the Editors, not without painful consciousness both of the difficulty of the work, and their own responsibility, to supply the want so generally felt, by the preparation of the present Hymnal Noted, and its Accompanying Harmonies.

Some of the Hymns of the ancient Church, and principally of the Sarum Service-books, are here translated and set to their old melodies. Others are in preparation, and will form, when completed, a second part, giving greater variety and precision to the scheme of the work, which assigns each hymn to definite periods in the course of the Christian year.

The Hymnal is published in three forms:—the Words; the Hymnal Noted; and Accompanying Harmonies.

I.—The English Words by themselves, in a cheap edition, for general use.

II.—The English Words Noted, for the use of all who sing,—printed to correspond with the Directory, Psalter, and Canticles Noted, in the Manual of Plain Song, 18mo. edition.

III.—The present volume of Accompanying Harmonies, for the use of organists and others who play, and also for any who may find it expedient to add vocal harmonies to the Canto-fermo of the Hymnal.

For all the harmonies not individually attributed to others, the Editor of the music is himself responsible, as well as for the general form and style of arrangement.

To those kind friends, by whose compositions a greater variety is given to the work, as well as to all others by whose advice and encouragement it has been rendered less unworthy of admission into the solemn Service to which it is dedicated, the Editors desire to return their most hearty thanks—especially to the Rev. Samuel Stevenson Greatheed, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; to Charles Child Spencer, Esq.; to the Rev. W. I. Irons, B.D., for the words of “Cœlestis urbs” and “Dies Iræ,” to all others who have assisted us with translations or criticisms; and to Mr. Masters for his kind permission to reprint Mr. Spencer’s harmony of the latter of the two above-named hymns.

The style of harmonization adopted is that founded upon the Church scales, and brought to its highest perfection in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. While this is deemed in general more strictly suited to, and illustrative of, the genius of the melodies, the Editor would wish it to be considered, by skilful musicians, rather as suggestive of the received mode of accompanying the Canto-fermo, than as restricting them to the same harmony throughout all the verses of any hymn. An examination of the melodies themselves will be the best guide to that harmony of which, by the eternal and unchangeable laws of nature, all melody is but one part. The same melody may, however, be consistent with several progressions of harmony, and the most obvious (or, in other words, common-place) of these is not, it may be suggested, the most suitable for devotional purposes. Hence arises the peculiar advantage of the Church style; it does not oppose nature, but by artificial restrictions, relations, and combinations, raises and refines it, as in all other things, searching out hidden mysteries, and revealing that which is least discoverable to a superficial observation.

The Accompaniment of the first verse of each Hymn is here printed in the usual notation of Gregorian organ music (first used by V. Novello and S. Wesley), of which it will suffice to observe, that the lines drawn through the stems of minims do not indicate any increased speed of execution, and that the accent of the music is to be learnt from that of the words. The signature, in case of transposition, is guided by the following rule:—

IN TRANSPOSING MUSIC WRITTEN IN THE ANCIENT CHURCH MODES, FIND ON WHAT NOTE OF THE ALTERED SCALE THE DO (OR UT, OR C) OF THE ORIGINAL SCALE WILL FALL AND THE SIGNATURE OF THE TRANSPOSED KEY WILL BE THAT OF THE MODERN MAJOR SCALE OF THAT NOTE.

But to avoid the too frequent repetition of accidentals, it is sometimes more expedient to give the signature of some proximate key, from which the harmony is, in such cases, mainly derived.

The Canto-fermo, in its original form, is also printed above the first verse, while the entire Hymn is given on the opposite page, both in the original Latin, and in the English version.

The Hymnal Noted stands (in a musical view) upon similar ground to that of the other restorations of the Gregorian music, or Canto-fermo, in the books before-mentioned. These books, printed in the Church notation, and restoring melodies, the antiquity of which reaches back, in many cases, certainly as far as any written records are left us, probably to the age of King David, and the first building of the Temple, claim to be, in a sense which no other music can be, the music of the Church. It has been, from time to time, set in order by learned and holy divines and musicians, and appointed by the authority, and consecrated by the use of the Catholic Church for many centuries at least, and some of it probably from the Apostolic times. Other music may be written for use in the Church, and tolerated, or approved of, or even preferred by individuals; but individual tastes are not the official and lawful exponents of the Church's will, and not one canon, rubric, or direction of the Church acting in her corporate capacity, has given formal authority to any other than the Canto-fermo or Gregorian music of the Western Church. And though the Editor would be one of the last to give up the license permitted of using in some portions of the Divine Service a more ornate and figurate style of composition, he claims for this simple music a restoration to its proper functions in the Church, feeling convinced that this is the surest means both of enlivening the true devotions of God's servants, and preparing us all for making a due choice, and use, of that more elaborate music for the choir, which too many would use throughout our Offices to the exclusion of this, which is emphatically, music for the people.

The Preface to the Accompanying Harmonies of the Psalter Noted may be referred to as giving such a general view of the doctrine of the Church Modes, and explanations of the Tones used for the Psalms, as may serve to introduce the subject to the students of Church Plain Song; and the brief notice prefixed to both editions of the Psalter and Canticles Noted, is a sufficient guide, if properly understood, to the right use of the Gregorian note used in those works and in this. But as many persons have found that notice too brief, a more full explanation is appended to this Preface, together with some few hints as to the manner in which the melodies of the Hymnal should be read.

In conclusion it may be observed that the present work is specially intended to furnish the means of various modes of musical performance, as, e.g. it may be sung in four parts, in the usual mode of choir harmony, with the melody in the Treble; or, in the same manner, with a Tenor reduplication of the melody in the octave below (as is always done in modern congregational use, though not as a recognized and legitimate mode for which the music is professedly arranged); or by men's voices only, with the melody in the Tenor; or, by a chorus of men's voices in unison, with organ accompaniment; or, by a chorus of Treble voices in unison, with organ, as before; or, by Trebles and men's voices in octaves, and accompanied with the organ; or, again, in either of the last three cases, a choral accompaniment, by a properly balanced choir, might be substituted for the organ. The Canto-fermo given in the Hymnal Noted is, however, alone suited, at present, for the people in general, as being best adapted to the immediate wants of most churches, and to the tastes of many devout Christians, to whom, for aid in singing themselves, a perfect balance of vocal parts is often nearly useless, and consequently a source rather of distraction and annoyance, than of edification and delight.

Nor is this feeling to be deprecated as being confined to the less musical members of the Church, for many testimonies can be adduced of such a mode of harmonic treatment being preferred by persons of undoubted musical taste, while instances are not wanting of musicians and composers of the greatest eminence, having been deeply affected by the simple grandeur of congregational unison.

What is principally needed in the execution of this style of music is vigor, concentrated power, and massiveness of effect, only to be obtained from large numbers of singers; and it may be safely asserted, that had not our people been so long deprived of music suited for such purposes, there would never have been cause for the complaints now unhappily all but universal—that in the Church of England there is no congregational singing. The modern cathedral music, intended exclusively for choirs, does not aim at producing—and the ordinary metrical psalmody has notoriously failed in sustaining—any such grand congregational effects; while the adoption in some places of an unecclesiastical, and secularized style, suited to the worst popular taste, and vulgar feeling, cannot too strongly be reprobated, as tending to bring down to the level of mere ordinary musical enjoyment, that portion of our worship on earth, which ought most to unite us to that of heaven.

OF THE NOTATION OF THE HYMNAL.

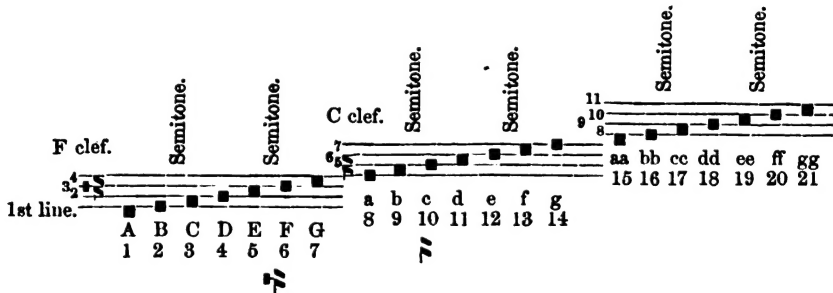

In this book are used only these ten musical characters:—

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

Stave.	C clef.	F clef.	Flat.	Long.	Breve.	Semibreve.	Bar.	Double-bar.	Slur.

1. The staff of four lines. Upon these four lines and in the spaces between, above and below them, can be represented nine sounds of the ordinary musical scale :—

Very few Church melodies include more ; so that to add another line, as in modern music, would be superfluous. But what particular nine sounds of the entire scale produced by the human voice are indicated by the staff, cannot be determined without one or other of the next two characters, viz :—

2. The C clef. 3. The F clef. These clefs, or keys, unlock (as it were) the names of the nine degrees of the staff. For the sounds of the scale are named by letters ; and as it is found that the intervals or differences of sound between those degrees are unequal, some being greater and some lesser tones, and others semitones, and that in a succession of 21 sounds of the scale there is a recurrence of three similar systems of intervals, the seven sounds of which, though differing in acuteness, nevertheless are so alike as, when sung together, to strike the ear as the same, seven letters only are employed to designate them, the three sets being sometimes distinguished from one another by capitals, small letters, and small letters doubled :

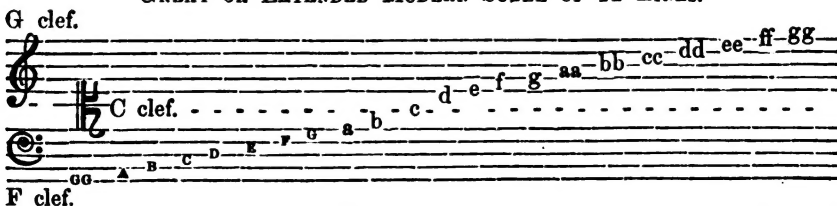

Men's voices can rarely reach the third septenary of these sounds ; and in singing the Canto-fermo, women and children read the men's notes in the septenary above that actually expressed ; so that as the sounds of the highest staff (15 to 21) have the same names upon the lines and spaces as the lowest (1 to 7), the eighth line is seldom used, and the ninth, tenth, and eleventh, never.

All the melodies of Plain-song are thus easily represented by some set of four lines selected from the 7 (or 8) lowest lines of the staves here represented.

In this way the clefs may be placed on any line of a particular staff, i.e., in any position with respect to the other three lines which, together with the clef line, make up the staff ; and thus the clefs serve (as in modern music) to show of what lines of the entire system the particular staff is made up :—e.g.

Thus all the various Scales, or Tones, or Modes, and melodies composed in each, may be easily expressed:—e.g.

VII. Mode. G a b c d e f g

IX. Mode. a b c d e f g aa higher or lower lines of the entire stave being selected for each, as need requires. The best practical rule, then, in learning these staves is to look what clef is used, how many lines above it or below it are taken, and to name them and the spaces from the clef note C or F, up or down in the order of the letters. Little difficulty will be found if this principle be understood.

4. The Flat; used in this notation only upon B (or b, or bb). This character intimates (as in modern music) the lowering of the degree on which it stands one semitone. It is often used to mark a transposition of the Psalal modes a fourth higher, thus.—

II Tone (or Mode).	A B C D E F G a 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8	II Tone, on D.	D E F G a b c d 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8
IV Tone.	B C D E F G a b 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8	IV Tone, on E.	E F G a b c d e 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8
VI Tone.	C D E F G a b c 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8	VI Tone, on F.	F G a b c d e f 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8
VIII. Tone.	D E F G a b c d 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8	VIII Tone, on G.	G a b c d e f g 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8

5, 6, 7. The Long, the Breve, and the Semibreve. These are notes of duration, and, as their names imply, express the longer or shorter continuance of the sounds indicated by the lines or spaces of the staff on which they are placed. Their relation to each other is not, however, so decided and invariable as in modern and ancient figurate music. This is one source of the freedom and life of this kind of music, when properly executed, as compared with the monotony of metrical psalmody, in which, from the syllables being in general measured out to notes of exactly the same length, the feeling of poetic rhythm is lost, or impaired, and the musical accentuation becomes simply mechanical. In the Hymnal, it will be desirable to regard principally the accents of the words, making the accented notes stronger and a little longer when the accent falls upon an emphatic word. In regard to the semibreve (or shortest note here used), it will be best to treat it according to circumstances, as sometimes taking from, and at others requiring an addition (similar to a dot in modern music) to the notes in immediate connexion with it. Good taste, and a keen sense both of the poetic and musical accent, will in general leave little doubt, on the mind of the musician, as to what is the best reading of each particular melody; while the rate of progression will be dictated by its style and structure, the season of the Christian year, the sentiment of the verse, and the capabilities of the singer or accompanist: as a general rule, it may be recommended to play the minims of the accompaniment as fast as in ordinary cathedral ("alla capella," or "alla breve") time.

Gregorian differs from other music, much as prose does from verse—or as good reading of verse does from scanning it; or from saying it, as children do, in sing-song.

The accents occur at less regular intervals; and this may be mentioned as one among other reasons against any attempt to reduce it to the ordinary forms of the Canto-figurato.

Difficulties must be encountered in the revival of any neglected branch of art, but will disappear as our circle of observation widens, and our intimacy with its details increases. It may be noticed that in those forms of the melodies which are taken from other sources than the Salisbury Hymnal, accents are marked. The careful examination of these (which are in general derived from the Mechlin books, in which all the music has been collated with great care and industry by M. Duval) will be extremely useful in determining the mode in which both these and the other melodies should be sung.

8, 9. Bars are here only used to show the ending of the lines, and Double bars of the verses of each hymn. It is seldom desirable to pause much (sometimes not at all) at the end of each line, especially when the sense of the words (or the structure of the melody) connects it with the following line of the hymn, or phrase of the music; nor should the longs in these places be dwelt on too much, as they are rather an additional pro forma close to a line than indications of any decided halt in the tune. In this, as in everything else in this music, the words must be the first consideration.

10. The Slur connects two or more notes when they are to be sung to one syllable. The notes of the same shape tied together by this character should be sung in equal and measured time, and the semibreves should bear the same relation to the breves as in figured music (i.e., one-half); and, when the musical accent seems to require it, a breve may be lengthened one-half, as though dotted.

SALIES BY HYMNAL.

O Lux be-a-ta Trin-i-tas, Et prin-ci-pa-lis U-ni-tas,
O Trin-i-ty of bless-ed light, O U-ni-ty of prince-ly might,

The musical score for the first verse is written on two staves. The upper staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lower staff is a piano accompaniment with a bass clef and the same key signature. The music is in 4/4 time and consists of two measures. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

After the last verse.

Jam sol re-ce-dit ig-ne-us, In-fun-de lumen cor-di-bus. A-men.
The fie-ry sun now goes his way: Shed Thou within our hearts Thy ray. A-men.

The musical score for the second verse is written on two staves. The upper staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lower staff is a piano accompaniment with a bass clef and the same key signature. The music is in 4/4 time and consists of two measures. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

ANOTHER HARMONY.

By the Rev. S. S. GREATHED, M.A.

This may be used instead of the former; or as a change for the 2nd verse.

The musical score for the first verse using an alternative harmony is written on two staves. The upper staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lower staff is a piano accompaniment with a bass clef and the same key signature. The music is in 4/4 time and consists of two measures. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

After the last verse.

The musical score for the second verse using an alternative harmony is written on two staves. The upper staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lower staff is a piano accompaniment with a bass clef and the same key signature. The music is in 4/4 time and consists of two measures. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

I.

Our limbs refresh'd with slumber now,
And sloth cast off, in prayer we bow:
And while we sing Thy praises dear,
O Father, be Thou present here!

II.

To Thee our earliest morning song,
To Thee our hearts' full powers belong:
And Thou, O Holy One, prevent
Each following action and intent.

III.

As shades at morning flee away,
And night before the Star of day,
So each transgression of the night
Be purg'd by Thee, celestial Light!

IV.

Cut off, we pray Thee, each offence,
And every lust of thought and sense;
That by their lips who Thee adore
Thou may'st be prais'd for evermore.

Quo mundus extat conditus,
Vel quo resurgens Conditor
Nos morte victâ liberat ;

II.

Pulsis procul torporibus,
Surgamus omnes ocius ;
Et nocte quæramus Pium,
Sicut prophetam novimus.

III.

Nostras preces ut audiat,
Suamque dextram porrigat ;
Et expiatis sordibus
Reddat polorum sedibus.

IV.

Ut quique sacratissimo
Hujus diei tempore
Horis quietis psallimus,
Donis beatis muneret.

V.

Jam nunc, paterna claritas,
Te postulamus affatim ;
Absit libido sordidans,
Et omnis actus noxius ;

VI.

Ne fœda sit vel lubrica
Compago nostri corporis,
Per quam Avernî ignibus
Ipsi crememur acrius.

VII.

Ob hoc, Redemptor, quæsumus
Ut probra nostra diluas ;
Vitæ perennis commoda
Nobis benigne conferas.

I.

ON this the day that saw the earth
From utter darkness first have birth ;—
The day its Maker rose again,
And vanquish'd death, and burst our chain :

II.

Away with sleep and slothful ease !
We raise our hearts and bend our knees,
And early seek the Lord of all,
According to the prophet's call.

III.

That He may grant us that we crave ;
May stretch His strong right arm to save ;
And, purging out each sinful stain,
Restore us to our Home again.

IV.

Assembled here this holy day,
This holiest hour we raise the lay :
And oh that He to Whom we sing
May now reward our offering !

V.

O Father of unclouded light !
We pray Thee, kneeling in Thy sight,
From all defilement to be freed,
And every sinful act and deed :

VI.

That this our body's mortal frame
May know no sin, and fear no shame,
Whereby the fires of hell may rise
To torture us in fiercer wise.

VII.

We therefore, Saviour, cry to Thee
To wash out our iniquity :
And give us of Thy boundless grace
The blessings of the Heav'nly Place.

VIII.

That we, thence exil'd by our sin,
Hereafter may be welcom'd in :
That blessed time awaiting now,
With hymns of glory here we bow.

IX.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son ;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

Hymn 4.

Jam lucis orto sidere.

MORNING HYMN.
(At Early Service.)

1 TIM. i. 17.—“Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.”

I.

JAM lucis orto sidere,
Deum precamur supplices,
Ut in diurnis actibus
Nos servet a nocentibus :

II.

Linguam refrenans temperet,
Ne litis horror insonet ;
Visum fovendo contegat,
Ne vanitates hauriat.

III.

Sint pura cordis intima ;
Absistat et vecordia :
Carnis terat superbiam
Potus cibique parcitas.

IV.

Ut cum dies abscesserit,
Noctemque sol reduxerit,
Mundi per abstinentiam
Ipsi canamus gloriam.

V.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

Now that the daylight fills the sky,
We lift our hearts to God on high,
That He, in all we do, or say,
Would keep us free from harm to-day :

II.

Would guard our hearts and tongues from strife :
From anger's din would hide our life :
From all ill sights would turn our eyes :
Would close our ears from vanities :

III.

Would keep our inmost conscience pure :
Our souls from folly would secure :
Would bid us check the pride of sense
With due and holy abstinence.

IV.

So we, when this new day is gone,
And night in turn is drawing on,
With conscience by the world unstained,
Shall praise His Name for vict'ry gained.

V.

All laud to God the Father be ;
All praise, Eternal Son, to Thee ;
All praise for ever, as is meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 5.

Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus.

MORNING HYMN.
(At the Third Hour.)

CHRISTMAS.

HEB. i. 1.—“God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds”

ETIPHANY.

Is. lx. 1.—“Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.”

I.

Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus,
Unum Patri cum Filio;
Dignare promptus ingeri
Nostro, refusus, pectori.

II.

Os, lingua, mens, sensus, vigor,
Confessionem personent;
Flammescat igne caritas,
Accendat ardor proximos.

III.

Praesta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Regnans per omne seculum. Amen.

CHRISTMAS.

ETIPHANY.

III.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui apparuisti hodie,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna saecula. Amen.

I.

Come, Holy Ghost, with God the Son,
And God the Father, ever One;
Shed forth Thy grace within our breast,
And dwell with us, a ready guest.

II.

By ev'ry pow'r, by heart and tongue,
By act and deed, Thy praise be sung;
Inflame with perfect love each sense,
That others' souls may kindle thence.

III.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

III.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

III.

All glory, Lord, to Thee we pay,
For Thine Epiphany to-day:
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

I.

Te, lucis ante terminum,
Rerum Creator, poscimus.
Ut solitâ clementiâ
Sis præsul ad custodiam.

II.

Procul recedant somnia,
Et noctium phantasmata;
Hostemque nostrum comprime,
Ne polluantur corpora.

III.

Præsta Pater omnipotens,
Per Jesum Christum Dominum,
Qui Tecum in perpetuum
Regnat cum Sancto Spiritu. Amen.

EASTER.

III.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui surrexisti a mortuis,

ASCENSION.

III.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui scandis super sidera,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

BEFORE the ending of the day,
Creator of the world, we pray
That with thy wonted favour, Thou
Wouldst be our Guard and Keeper now.

II.

From all ill dreams defend our eyes,
From nightly fears and fantasies;
Tread under foot our ghostly Foe,
That no pollution we may know.

III.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

III.

To Thee Who, dead, again dost live,
All glory, Lord, Thy people give:
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

III.

All glory, Lord, to Thee we pay,
Ascending o'er the stars to-day:
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 10.

Conditor alme siderum.

EVENING HYMN
IN ADVENT.

ROM. xlii. 11.—“ Now it is high time to awake out of sleep ; for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

I.

CONDITOR alme siderum,
Æterna lux credentium,
Christe Redemptor omnium,
Exaudi preces supplicum.

II.

Sancto simul Paraclito,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

CREATOR of the stars of night,
Thy people's everlasting light,
Jesu, Redeemer, save us all,
And hear Thy servants when they call.

II.

Thou, grieving that the ancient curse
Should doom to death an universe,
Hast found the med'cine, full of grace,
To save and heal a ruin'd race.

III.

Thou cam'st, the Bridegroom of the Bride,
As drew the world to evening tide ;
Proceeding from a Virgin shrine,
The spotless Victim all divine.

IV.

At Whose dread Name, Majestic now,
All knees must bend, all hearts must bow ;
And things celestial Thee shall own,
And things terrestrial, Lord alone.

V.

O Thou Whose coming is with dread
To judge and doom the quiek and dead,
Preserve us, while we dwell below
From ev'ry insult of the foe.

VI.

To Him, Who comes the world to free,
To God the Son, all glory be :
To God the Father, as is meet,
To God the blessed Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 11. Verbum supernum prodiens.

MORNING HYMN
in Advent.

ROM. xiii. 11.—“Now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearest than when we believed.”

I.

VERBUM supernum prodiens,
A Patre olim exiens,
Qui natus orbi subvenis,
Cursu declivi temporis :

II.

Illumina nunc pectora,
Tuoque amore concrema ;
Audito ut præconio,
Sint pulsa tandem lubrica :

III.

Judexque cum post aderis,
Rimari facta pectoris,
Reddens vicem pro abditis
Justisque regnum pro bonis,—

IV.

Non demum artemur malis,
Pro qualitate criminis ;
Sed cum beatis compotes
Simus perennes cœlibes.

V.

Laus, honor. virtus, gloria,
Deo Patri et Filio,
Sancto simul Paraclito,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

TO EARTH descending, Word sublime,
Begotten ere the days of time,
Who cam'st a Child, the world to aid,
As years their downward course display'd :

II.

Each breast be light'ned from above,
Each heart be kindled with Thy love ;
That we, who hear Thy call to day,
At length may cast earth's joys away :

III.

That so,—when Thou, our Judge, art nigh,
All secret deeds of men to try,
Shalt mete to sin pangs rightly won,
To just men joy for deeds well done,—

IV.

Thy servants may not be enchain'd
By punishment their guilt has gain'd :
But with the blessed evermore
May serve and love Thee, and adore.

V.

To Him Who comes the world to free,
To God the Son, all glory be :
To God the Father, as is meet,
To God the Blessed Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 12.

Veni Redemptor gentium.

EVENING HYMN
from Christmas-Eve to the Epiphany.

GAL. iv. 4.—“When the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.”

I.

VENI Redemptor gentium,
Ostende partum Virginis;
Miretur omne seculum;
Talis decet partus Deum.

II.

Non ex virili semine,
Sed mystico spiramine,
Verbum Dei factum est caro,
Fructusque ventris floruit.

III.

Alvus tumescit Virginis,
Claustra pudoris permanent,
Vexilla virtutum micant,
Versatur in Templo Deus.

IV.

Procedens de thalamo suo,
Pudoris aulâ regiâ,
Geminæ Gigas substantiæ,
Alacris ut currat viam.

V.

Egressus ejus a Patre,
Regressus ejus ad Patrem;
Excursus usque ad inferos,
Rekursus ad sedem Dei.

VI.

Æqualis æterno Patri,
Carnis stropheo accingere;
Infirma nostri corporis
Virtute firmans perpeti.

VII.

Præsepe jam fulget Tuum,
Lumenque nox spiret novum;
Quod nulla nox interpolet,
Fideque jugi luceat.

VIII.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paracrito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

COME, Thou Redeemer of the earth,
Come, testify Thy Virgin-birth:
All lands admire,—all times applaud;
Such is the birth that fits a God.

II.

Begotten of no human will,
But of the Spirit, mystic still,
The Word of God, in flesh array'd,
The promis'd fruit to man display'd.

III.

The Virgin womb that burden gain'd,
With Virgin honour all unstain'd:
The banners there of virtue glow:
God in His temple dwells below.

IV.

Proceeding from His Chamber free,
The royal hall of chastity,
Giant of twofold substance, straight
His destined way He runs elate.

V.

From God the Father He proceeds:
To God the Father back He speeds:
Proceeds,—as far as very hell;
Speeds back,—to light ineffable.

VI.

O Equal to Thy Father, Thou!
Gird on Thy fleshly mantle now:
The weakness of our mortal state
With deathless might invigorate.

VII.

Thy cradle here shall glitter bright,
And darkness breathe a newer light;
Where endless faith shall shine serene,
And twilight never intervene.

VIII.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee!
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 13. Christe Redemptor omnium.

MORNING HYMN
for Christmas.

TITUS iii. 4.—“But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us.”

I.

CHRISTE Redemptor omnium,
Ex Patre Patris Unice ;
Solus ante principium
Natus ineffabiliter :

II.

Tu lumen, Tu splendor Patris,
Tu spes perennis omnium ;
Intende quas fundunt preces
Tui per orbem famuli.

III.

Memento, salutis Auctor,
Quod nostri quondam corporis,
Ex illibatâ Virgine
Nascendo, formam sumpseris.

IV.

Hoc præsens testatur dies,
Currrens per anni circulum ;
Quod solus a sede Patris,
Mundi salus, advenieris.

V.

Hunc cœlum, terra, Hunc mare,
Hunc omne quod in eis est,
Auctorem adventus Tui,
Laudat, exultans cantico.

VI.

Nos quoque qui sancto Tuo
Redempti sumus sanguine ;
Ob diem Natalis Tui
Hymnum novum concinimus.

VII.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui natus es de Virgine,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

Jesu, the Father's Only Son,
Whose death for all redemption won,
Before the worlds, of God Most High
Begotten all ineffably :

II.

The Father's Light and Splendour Thou,
Their endless Hope to Thee that bow :
Accept the prayers and praise to-day,
That through the world Thy servants pay.

III.

Salvation's Author, call to mind
Thou took'st the form of humankind,
When of the Virgin undefil'd,
Thou, in man's flesh, becam'st a Child.

IV.

Thus testifies the present day,
Through every year in long array,
That Thou, Salvation's source alone,
Proceededst from the Father's Throne.

V.

Whence sky, and stars, and sea's abyss,
And earth, and all that therein is,
Shall still, with laud and carol meet,
The Author of Thine Advent greet.

VI.

And we who, by Thy Precious Blood
From sin redeemed, are marked for God,
On this the day that saw Thy Birth,
Sing the new song of ransom'd earth.

VII.

For that Thine Advent, glory be
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee !
With Father, and with Holy Ghost,
From men, and from the Heav'nly Host.
Amen.

MORNING HYMN
at Christmas.

Hms. 1. 1.—“ God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.”

I.

Pastor, Creator omnium.

VIII.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui natus es de Virgine ;
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

FROM lands that see the sun arise,
To earth's remotest boundaries,
The Virgin-born to-day we sing,
The Son of Mary, Christ the King.

II.

Blest Author of this earthly frame,
To take a servant's form He came,
That liberating flesh by flesh,
Whom He had made might live afresh.

III.

In that chaste parent's holy womb
Celestial grace hath found its home :
And she, as earthly bride unknown,
Yet calls that Offspring blest her own :

IV. .

The mansion of the modest breast
Becomes a shrine where God shall rest :
The pure and undefiled one
Conceived in her womb The Son.

V.

That Son, that Royal Son she bore,
Whom Gabriel's voice had told afore :
Whom, in His Mother yet conceal'd,
The Infant Baptist had reveal'd.

VI.

The manger and the straw He bore,
The cradle did He not abhor :
By milk in infant portions fed,
Who gives e'en fowls their daily bread.

VII.

The Heav'nly chorus fill'd the sky,
The Angels sang to God on high,
What time to shepherds, watching lone,
They made Creation's Shepherd known.

VIII.

For this Thine Advent glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee !
With Father, and with Holy Ghost,
From men and from the Heav'nly Host.

Protomartyr Stephen, bright
With thy love, of amplest measure,
Shining round thee like a light,
Who to God commended'st, dying,
Them that did thee all despite :

II.

Glitters now the Crown above thee,
Figured in thy sacred name :
O that we, who truly love thee,
May have portion in the same ;
In the dreadful Day of Judgment
Fearing neither sin nor shame !

III.

Laud to God, and might, and honour,
Who with flow'rs of rosy dye
Crown'd thy forehead, and hath plac'd thee
In the starry throne on high :
He direct us, He protect us
From death's sting eternally. Amen.

Salvete flores Martyrum.

EVENING HYMN
for the Feast of the Holy Innocents.*

REV. xiv. 1.—“I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the Mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father’s name written in their foreheads.”

I.

SALVETE flores Martyrum,
Quos, lucis ipso in limine,
Christi insecutor sustulit,
Ceum turbo nascentes rosas.

II.

Vos prima Christi victima,
Grex immolatorum tener,
Aram sub ipsam simplices
Palmâ et coronis luditis.

III.

Jesu, tibi sit gloria,
Qui natus es de Virgine,
Cum Patre, et almo Spiritu,
In Sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

ALL HAIL! ye Infant Martyr flowers,
Cut off in life’s first dawning hours,
As rosebuds, snapt in tempest-strife,
When Herod sought your Saviour’s life.

II.

You, tender flock of lambs, we sing,
First victims slain for Christ your King:
Beneath the Altar’s heavenly ray,
With Martyr Palms and Crowns ye play.

III.

For their redemption glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee!
With Father, and with Holy Ghost
For ever from the Martyr Host! Amen.

The second system of musical notation for the second version of the hymn. It continues the melody from the first system. The lyrics for the second verse are written below the vocal line. The system ends with a double bar line.

Hymn 17.

Hostis Herodes impie.

EVENING HYMN
for the Epiphany and the following week.

ISAIAH LX. 1.—“ Arise, shine ; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.”

I.

HOSTIS Herodes impie,
Christum venire quid times ?
Non eripit mortalia,
Qui regna dat coelestia.

II.

Ibant Magi, quam viderant
Stellam sequentes præviam ;
Lumen requirunt lumine,
Deum fatentur munere.

III.

Lavacra puri gurgitis,
Coelestis Agnus attigit ;
Peccata quæ non detulit,
Nos abluendo, sustulit.

IV.

Novum genus potentiae !
Aquæ rubescunt hydris ;
Vinumque jussa fundere
Mutavit unda originem.

V.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui apparuisti hodie ;
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

WHY, impious Herod, vainly fear,
That Christ the Saviour cometh here ?
He takes not earthly realms away,
Who gives the crown that lasts for aye.

II.

To greet His birth the wise men went,
Led by the star before them sent :
Called on by light, towards Light they press'd,
And by their gifts their God confess'd.

III.

In holy Jordan's purest wave
The heav'nly Lamb vouchsaf'd to lave :
That He, to Whom was sin unknown,
Might cleanse His people from their own.

IV

New miracle of Power Divine !
The water reddens into wine :
He spake the word ; and pour'd the wave
In other streams than nature gave.

V.

All glory, Lord, to thee we pay
For Thine Epiphany to-day :
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Hostis Herodes impie.

Hymn 18.

Jesu dulcís memoria.

HYMN FOR THE EPIPHANY
and following week, (also for August 7th).

PHIL. ii. 8.—“He humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name : That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow.”

ACTS iv. 12.—“There is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.”

I.

Jesu dulcis memoria,
Dans vera cordis gaudia :
Sed super mel et omnia
Ejus dulcis præsentia :

II.

Nil canitur sūavius,
Nil auditur jucundius,
Nil cogitatur dulcius,
Quam Jesus Dei Filius.

III.

Jesu spes pœnitentibus,
Quam pius es petentibus !
Quam bonus te quærentibus !
Sed quid invenientibus !

IV.

Nec lingua potest dicere,
Nec littera exprimere,
Expertus novit credere
Quid sit Jesum diligere.

V.

Jesu Rex admirabilis,
Et triumphator nobilis,
Dulcedo ineffabilis,
Totus desiderabilis ;

VI.

Mane nobiscum, Domine,
Nos tuo reple munere ;
Pulsâ noctis caligine
Tuâ pæce dulcedine.

VII.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui natus es de Virgine,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

Jesu !—The very thought is sweet !
In that dear Name all heart-joys meet :
But sweeter than the honey far
The glimpses of His Presence are.

II.

No word is sung more sweet than this :
No name is heard more full of bliss :
No thought brings sweeter comfort nigh,
Than Jesus, Son of God most high.

III.

Jesu ! the hope of souls forlorn !
How good to them for sin that mourn !
To them that seek Thee, oh how kind !
But what art Thou to them that find ?

IV.

No tongue of mortal can express,
No letters write its blessedness :
Alone who hath Thee in his heart
Knows, love of Jesus ! what thou art !

V.

O Jesu ! King of wondrous might !
O Victor, glorious from the fight !
Sweetness that may not be express'd,
And altogether loveliest !

VI.

Remain with us, O Lord, to-day :
In every heart Thy grace display :
That, now the shades of night are fled,
On Thee our spirits may be fed.

VII.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee !
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 19.

Ecce tempus idoneum.

EVENING HYMN IN LENT.

EPH. v. 1.—“Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children: and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour.”

I.

Ecce tempus idoneum,
Medicina peccaminum,
Quibus Deum offendimus,
Corde, verbis, operibus;

II.

Qui pius ac propitius,
Nobis pepercit hactenus,
Ne nos cum nostris perderet
Tantis iniquitatibus.

III.

Angelicis et cœtibus
Conjungat in cœlestibus.

V.

Sit benedictus Genitor,
Ejusque Unigenitus,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Trinus et Unus Dominus. Amen.

I.

Lo! now is our accepted day,
The med'cine, purging sin away;
Where'er our lives have wrought offence,
By thought and word, by deed and sense!

II.

For God, the merciful and true,
Hath spar'd His people hitherto;
Nor us and ours, with searching eyes,
Destroy'd for our iniquities.

III.

Him therefore now, with earnest care,
And contrite fast, and tear and prayer,
And works of mercy and of love,
We pray for pardon from above:

IV.

That from pollution making whole,
With virtues He may deck each soul;
And join us, in the Heavenly Place,
To Angel cohorts by His grace.

V.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son:
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

Hymn 20.

Audí, benigne Conditor.

MORNING HYMN IN LENT.

2 COR. vi. 1.—“We then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain. For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee.”

I.

AUDI, benigne Conditor,
Nostras preces cum fletibus
In hoc sacro jejunio
Fusas quadragenario.

II.

Scrutator alme cordium,
Infirma Tu scis virium :
Ad Te reversis exhibe
Remissionis gratiam.

III.

Multum quidem peccavimus,
Sed parce confitentibus;
Ad laudem Tui nominis
Confer medelam languidis.

IV.

Sic corpus extra conteri
Dona per abstinentiam,
Jejunet ut mens sobria
A labe prorsus criminum.

V.

Præsta, Beata Trinitas,
Concede, simplex Unitas,
Ut fructuosa sint Tuis
Jejuniorum munera. Amen.

I.

O MAKER of the world, give ear !
Accept the prayer, and own the tear,
Toward Thy seat of mercy sent
In this most holy fast of Lent.

II.

Each heart is manifest to Thee :
Thou knowest our infirmity :
Forgive Thou then each soul that fain
Would seek to Thee, and turn again.

III.

Our sins are manifold and sore ;
But pardon them that sin deplore ;
And, for Thy Name's sake, make each soul
That feels and owns its languor whole.

IV.

So mortify we every sense
By grace of outward abstinence,
That from each stain and spot of sin
The soul may keep her fast within.

V.

Grant, O Thou Blessed Trinity,
Grant, O Essential Unity,
That this our fast of forty days
May work our profit, and Thy praise ! Amen.

I.

Jesu, the Law and Pattern, whence
Our forty days of abstinence,
Who souls to save, that else had died,
This sacred fast hast ratified :

II.

That so to Paradise once more,
Might abstinence preserv'd restore
Them that had lost its fields of light,
Through crafty wiles of appetite :

III.

Be present now, be present here,
And mark Thy Church's falling tear,
And own the grief that fills her eyes
In mourning her iniquities.

IV.

Oh, by Thy grace be pardon won
For sins that former years have done ;
And let Thy mercy guard us still
From crimes that threaten future ill.

V.

That by the Fast we offer here,
Our annual sacrifice sincere,
To Paschal gladness at the end,
Set free from guilt, our souls may tend.

Hymn 22.

Vexilla Regis prodeunt.

EVENING HYMN

From the fifth Saturday in Lent till Wednesday in Holy Week, inclusive.

HEB. ix. 11.—“Christ being come an high-priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building; neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood, he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained an eternal redemption for us.”

I.

Prædamque tulit Tartari.

VI.

Te summa Deus Trinitas

I.

THE Royal Banners forward go ;
The Cross shines forth in mystic glow ;
Where He in flesh, our flesh Who made,
Our sentence bore, our ransom paid.

II.

Where deep for us the spear was dy'd,
Life's torrent rushing from His side,
To wash us in that precious flood
Where mingled Water flow'd, and Blood.

III.

Fulfill'd is all that David told
In true Prophetic song of old ;
Amidst the nations God, saith he,
Hath reign'd and triumph'd from the Tree.

IV.

O Tree of beauty, Tree of light,
O Tree with royal purple dight,
Elect on whose triumphal breast
Those holy limbs should find their rest ;

V.

On whose dear arms, so widely flung,
The weight of this world's ransom hung ;
The price of human kind to pay,
And spoil the Spoiler of his prey !

VI.

Hymn 23 Pange, lingua, gloriosi Prælium.

MORNING HYMN from Passion Sunday till Maundy Thursday

Is. liii. 12.—“He hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sins of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.”

I.

PANGE, lingua, gloriosi
Prælium certaminis,
Et super crucis trophæum
Dic triumphum nobilem,
Qualiter Redemptor orbis
Immolatus vicerit.

II.

De parentis protoplasti
Fraude factâ condolens,
Quando pomi noxialis
Morte morsu corruit,
Ipse lignum tunc notavit,
Damna ligni ut solveret.

III.

Hoc opus nostræ salutis
Ordo depoposcerat,
Multiformis proditoris
Ars ut artem falleret,
Et medelam ferret inde
Hostis unde læserat.

IV.

Quando venit ergo sacri
Plenitudo temporis,
Missus est ab arce Patris
Natus orbis Conditor,
Atque ventre virginali
Caro factus prodiit.

V.

Gloria et honor Deo

I.

SING, my tongue, the glorious battle
With completed victory rife:
And above the cross's trophy
Tell the triumph of the strife:
How the world's Redeemer conquer'd
By surrendering of His Life.

II.

God his Maker, sorely grieving
That the first-made Adam fell,
When he ate the fruit of sorrow,
Whose reward was death and hell,
Noted then this wood, the ruin
Of the ancient wood to quell.

III.

For the work of our salvation
Needs would have his order so;
And the multiform deceiver's
Art by art would overthrow,
And from thence would bring the med'cine
Whence the insult of the Foe.

IV.

Wherefore, when the sacred fulness
Of th' appointed time was come,
This world's Maker left His Father,
Sent the Heav'nly Mansion from,
And proceeded, God Incarnate,
Of the Virgin's holy womb.

V.

To the Trinity be glory
Everlasting, as is meet:
Equal to the Father, equal
To the Son and Paraclete;
Trinal Unity, Whose praises
All created things repeat. Amen.

PHIL. II. 5.—“Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus; Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men.”

I.

Arbor una nobilis!
Nulla talem silva profert
Fronde, flore, germine:
Dulce lignum, dulce ferrum,
Dulce pondus sustinens.

IV.

I.

THIRTY years among us dwelling,
His appointed time fulfill'd,
Born for this, He meets His Passion,
For that this He freely will'd:
On the Cross the Lamb is lifted,
Where His Life-blood shall be spill'd.

II.

He endured the nails, the spitting,
Vinegar, and spear, and reed;
From that Holy Body broken
Blood and Water forth proceed:
Earth, and stars, and sky, and ocean,
By that flood from stain are freed.

III.

Faithful Cross! above all other
One and only noble tree!
None in foliage, none in blossom,
None in fruit thy peers may be:
Sweetest wood and sweetest iron!
Sweetest weight is hung on thee!

IV.

Bend thy boughs, O Tree of Glory!
Thy relaxing sinews bend;
For awhile the ancient rigour,
That thy birth bestowed, suspend:
And the King of Heav'nly Beauty
On thy bosom gently tend!

V.

Thou alone wast counted worthy
This world's ransom to uphold;
For a shipwrecked race preparing
Harbour, like the Ark of old;
With the sacred Blood anointed
From the smitten Lamb that roll'd.

VI.

To the Trinity be glory
Everlasting, as is meet;
Equal to the Father, equal
To the Son and Paraclete:

I.

YE CHOIRS of New Jerusalem
To sweet new strains attune your theme !
The while we keep, from care releas'd,
With sober joy our Paschal Feast.

II.

When Christ, unconquer'd Lion, first
The Dragon's chains by rising burst ;
And while with living voice He cries,
The dead of other ages rise.

III.

Engorg'd in former years, their prey
Must Death and Hell restore to-day :
And many a captive soul, set free,
With Jesus leaves captivity.

IV.

Right gloriously He triumphs now,
Worthy to Whom should all things bow :
And joining Heaven and Earth again
Links in one common-weal the twain.

V.

And we, as these His deeds we sing,
His suppliant soldiers, pray our King,
That in His palace, bright and vast,
We may keep watch and ward at last.

VI.

Long as unending ages run,
To God the Father laud be done :
To God the Son our equal praise,
And God the Holy Ghost, we raise. Amen.

Hymn 26.

Aurora lucis rutilat.

MORNING HYMN

(at Easter-tide till Ascension Day).

COL. ii. 13—"You hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses; blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross; and having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it."

I.

AURORA lucis rutilat,
Cœlum laudibus inonat,
Mundus exultans jubilat,
Gemens infernus ululat;

II.

Cum Rex ille fortissimus,
Mortis contractis viribus,
Pede conculcans Tartara,
Solvit a poenâ miseros.

III.

Ille, qui clausus lapide
Custoditur sub milite,
Triumphans pompâ nobili
Victor surgit de funere.

IV.

Solutis jam gemitibus
Et inferni doloribus,
Quia surrexit Dominus,
Resplendens clamat Angelus.

V.

Tristes erant Apostoli
De nece sui Domini,
Quem poenâ mortis crudeli
Servi damnarant impii.

VI.

Quæsumus, Auctor omnium,
In hoc Paschali Gaudio
Ab omni mortis impetu
Tuum defende populum.

VII.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui surrexisti a mortuis,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

LIGHT's glitt'ring morn bedecks the sky,
Heav'n thunders forth its victor-cry;
The glad earth shouts her triumph high,
And groaning Hell makes wild reply:

II.

While He, the King of glorious might,
Treads down death's strength in death's despite,
And trampling Hell by victor's right,
Brings forth His sleeping saints to light.

III.

First barr'd beneath the stone of late,
In watch and ward where soldiers wait,
Now shining in triumphant state,
He rises victor from death's gate.

IV.

Hell's pains are loos'd, and tears are fled;
Captivity is captive led;
The Angel, crown'd with light, hath said,
'The Lord is risen from the dead.'

V.

Th' Apostles' hearts were full of pain,
For their dear Lord so lately slain,
That Lord His servants' wicked train
With bitter scorn had dared arraign.

VI.

We pray Thee, King with glory deck'd,
In this our Paschal joy, protect
From all that Death would vain effect,
Thy ransom'd flock, Thine own elect.

VII.

To Thee Who, dead, again dost live,
All glory, Lord, Thy people give:
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

From the Salisbury Hymn

Au - ro - ra lu - cis ru - ti - lat, Cœ - lum lau - di - bus, in - to - nat;
Light's glitt'ring morn be - decks the sky, Heav'n thunders forth its vic - tor cry;

The first system of musical notation for the hymn. It consists of a vocal line (soprano) and a piano accompaniment (treble and bass staves). The key signature has one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is common time (C). The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

Mun - dus ex - ul - tans ju - bi - lat, Ge - mens in - fer - nus u - lu - lat. A - men.
The glad earth shouts its triumph high, And groaning Hell makes wild re - ply. A - men.

After the last verse.

The second system of musical notation. It continues the vocal and piano parts. The lyrics for the second verse are included. The system ends with a double bar line and the instruction 'After the last verse.'

ANOTHER HARMONY.

The first system of musical notation for the 'ANOTHER HARMONY' version. It features a different piano accompaniment for the same vocal line. The key signature and time signature remain the same as the first system.

After the last verse.

The second system of musical notation for the 'ANOTHER HARMONY' version. It continues the vocal and piano parts with the alternative accompaniment. The system ends with a double bar line and the instruction 'After the last verse.'

Hymn 27. Sermone blando Angelus.

MORNING HYMN
in Easter-tide till Ascension Day.

8. MATT. xxviii. 5—"And the angel answered and said unto the woman, Fear not ye : for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here : for he is risen as he said."

I.

SERMONE blando Angelus
Prædixit mulieribus ;
In Galilæâ Dominus
Videndus est quantocius.

II.

Illæ, dum pergunt concitæ
Apostolis hoc dicere,
Videntes eum vivere
Osculantur pedes Domini.

III.

Quo agnito discipuli
In Galilæam properè
Pergunt videre faciem
Desideratam Domini.

IV.

Claro Paschali gaudio
Sol mundo nitet radio,
Cum Christum jam Apostoli
Visu cernunt corporeo.

V.

Ostensa sibi vulnera
In Christi carne fulgidâ,
Resurrexisse Dominum
Voce fatentur publicâ.

VI.

Rex Christe clementissime,
Tu corda nostra posside,
Ut Tibi laudes debitas
Reddamus omni tempore.

VII.

Quæsumus, Auctor omnium,
In hoc Paschali Gaudio,
Ab omni mortis impetu
Tuum defende populum.

VIII.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui surrexisti a mortuis,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

With gentle voice the Angel gave
The women tidings at the Grave ;
Forthwith your Master shall ye see :
He goes before to Galilee.

II.

And while with fear and joy they pressed
To tell these tidings to the rest,
Their Lord, their living Lord, they meet,
And see His Form, and kiss His Feet.

III.

The Eleven, when they hear, with speed
To Galilee forthwith proceed ;
That there they may behold once more
The Lord's dear Face, as oft afore.

IV.

In this our bright and Paschal day
The sun shines out with purer ray :
When Christ, to earthly sight made plain,
The glad Apostles see again.

V.

The Wounds, the riven Wounds, He shows
In that His Flesh with light that glows,
With public voice, both far and nigh,
The Lord's arising testify.

VI.

O Christ the King, Who lov'st to bless,
Do Thou our hearts and souls possess ;
To Thee our praise that we may pay,
To Whom our laud is due, for aye.

VII.

We pray Thee, King with glory deck'd,
In this our Paschal joy protect,
From all that death would fain effect,
Thy ransom'd flock, Thine own elect.

VIII.

To Thee, Who, dead, again dost live,
All glory, Lord, Thy people give :
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Ser - mo - ne blan - do An - ge - lus, Præ - dix - it mu - li - e - ri - bus,
With gen - tle voice the An - gel gave The wo - men ti - dings at the grave;

The musical score for the first verse is written for a four-part choir (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and piano accompaniment. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is common time (C). The melody is simple and hymn-like, with the piano accompaniment providing a harmonic foundation.

After the last verse.

In Ga - li - læ - á Do - mi - nus, Vi - den - dus est quan - to - ci - us. A - men.
Forthwith your Mas - ter shall ye see, He goes be - fore to Ga - li - lee. A - men.

The musical score for the second verse continues the four-part choir and piano accompaniment. It includes a repeat sign at the end of the verse, indicating a final cadence. The piano part features a steady accompaniment with some melodic movement in the right hand.

ANOTHER HARMONY.

Ser - mo - ne blan - do An - ge - lus, Præ - dix - it mu - li - e - ri - bus,
With gen - tle voice the An - gel gave The wo - men ti - dings at the grave;

This section provides an alternative harmonic setting for the first verse. The vocal parts and piano accompaniment are arranged differently from the first setting, offering a new musical interpretation of the same text.

After the last verse.

In Ga - li - læ - á Do - mi - nus, Vi - den - dus est quan - to - ci - us. A - men.
Forthwith your Mas - ter shall ye see, He goes be - fore to Ga - li - lee. A - men.

The musical score for the second verse of the alternative harmony continues the four-part choir and piano accompaniment. It includes a repeat sign at the end of the verse, indicating a final cadence. The piano part features a steady accompaniment with some melodic movement in the right hand.

Hymn 29

Ad Cœnam Agni providi.

EVENING HYMN
in Easter-tide till Ascension Day.
ON FERIAI DAYS.

ROM. vi. 9.—“ Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more ; death hath no more dominion over him.

I.

Ad cœnam Agni providi,
Et stolis albis candidi,
Post transitum Maris Rubri,
Christo canamus Principi ;

II.

Cujus corpus sanctissimum
In ara Crucis torridum :
Cruore Ejus roseo
Gustando, vivimus Deo.

III.

Protecti Paschæ Vespere
A devastante Angelo,
Erepti de durissimo
Pharaonis imperio.

IV.

Jam Pascha nostrum Christus est,
Qui immolatus Agnus est :
Sinceritatis azyma
Caro Ejus oblata est.

V.

O vere digna Hostia,
Per quam fracta sunt Tartara,
Redempta plebs captivata
Reddita vitæ præmia.

VI.

Consurgit Christus tumulo,
Victor redit de baratro,
Tyrannum trudens vinculo,
Et reserans Paradisum.

VII.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui surrexisti a mortuis,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

THE Lamb's high banquet we await,
In snow-white robes of royal state :
And now, the Red Sea's channel past,
To Christ our Prince we sing at last.

II.

Upon the Altar of the Cross
His body hath redeem'd our loss :
And tasting of His roseate Blood,
Our life is hid with Him in God.

III.

That Paschal Eve God's Arm was bar'd :
The devastating Angel spared :
By strength of hand our hosts went free
From Pharaoh's ruthless tyranny.

IV.

Now Christ, our Paschal Lamb, is slain,
The Lamb of God That knows no stain ;
The true Oblation offer'd here,
Our own unleaven'd bread sincere.

V.

O Thou, from Whom Hell's monarch flies,
O great, O very Sacrifice,
Thy captive people are set free,
And endless life restor'd in Thee !

VI.

For Christ, arising from the dead,
From conquer'd hell victorious sped :
And thrust the Tyrant down to chains.
And Paradise for man regains.

VII.

To Thee Who, dead, again dost live,
All glory, Lord, Thy people give ;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 30.

Jesu Salvator sæculi.

HYMN AT NIGHT (instead of "Te lucis")
in Easter-tide till Ascension Day.

ACTS II. 24.—"Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pangs of death; because it was not possible that he should be holden of it."

I.

JESU Salvator sæculi,
Verbum Patris Altissimi,
Lux lucis invisibilis,
Custos tuorum pervigil;

II.

Tu, Fabricator omnium,
Discretor atque temporum,
Fessa labore corpora
Noctis quiete recrea.

III.

Ut dum gravi in corpore
Brevi manemus tempore,
Sic caro nostra dormiat,
Ut mens in Christo vigilet.

IV.

Te deprecamur supplices
Ut nos ab hoste liberes;
Ne valeat seducere
Tuo redemptos sanguine.

V.

Quæsumus, Auctor omnium,
In hoc Paschali gaudio
Ab omni mortis impetu
Tuum defende populum.

VI.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui surrexisti a mortuis,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

JESU, Who brought'st redemption nigh,
Word of the Father, God most High,
O Light of Light, to man unknown,
And watchful Guardian of Thine Own:

II.

Thy hand Creation made and guides;
Thy Wisdom time from time divides:
By this world's cares and toils oppress'd,
O give our weary bodies rest.

III.

That while in frames of sin and pain
A little longer we remain,
Our flesh may here in such wise sleep,
That watch with Christ our souls may keep.

IV.

O free us, while we dwell below,
From insults of our ghostly Foe;
That he may ne'er victorious be
O'er them that are redeemed by Thee.

V.

We pray Thee, King with glory deck'd,
In this our Paschal joy, protect,
From all that death would fain effect,
Thy ransomed flock, Thine own elect.

VI.

To Thee Who, dead, again dost live,
All glory, Lord, thy people give;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Eterne Rex altissime.

EVENING HYMN
fr m the Vigil of Ascension-day till Whit-Sunday.

Acts i. 1.—“The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach, until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the Apostles whom he had chosen.”

I.

ETERNE Rex altissime,
Redemptor et fidelium,
Quo mors soluta deperit,
Datur triumphus gratiæ :

II.

Scandens tribunal dexteræ
Patris, potestas omnium
Collata est Jesu cœlitus,
Quæ non erat humanitus.

III.

Ut trina rerum machina,
Cœlestium, terrestrium,
Et infernorum condita,
Flectant genu jam subdita.

IV.

Tremunt videntes Angeli

Culpat caro, purgat caro,
Regnat Deus Dei caro.

V.

Tu esto nostrum gaudium,
Qui es futurum præmium ;
Sit nostra in Te gloria
Per cuncta semper sæcula.

VI.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui scandis super sidera,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

ETERNAL Monarch, King most high,
Whose Blood hath brought Redemption nigh,
By whom the death of Death was wrought,
And conq'ring Grace's battle fought :

II.

Ascending to the Throne of might,
And seated at the Father's right,
All power in Heav'n is Jesu's own,
That here His Manhood had not known.

III.

That so, in Nature's triple frame,
Each heavenly and each earthly name,
And things in Hell's abyss abhorr'd,
May bend the knee and own Him Lord.

IV.

Yea, angels tremble when they see
How chang'd is our humanity ;
That Flesh hath purg'd what flesh had stain'd,
And God, the Flesh of God, hath reign'd.

V.

Be Thou our Joy and Thou our Guard,
Who art to be our great Reward :
Our glory and our boast in Thee
For ever and for ever be !

VI.

All glory, Lord, to Thee we pay,
Ascending o'er the stars to-day ;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 32.

Jesu, nostra Redemptio.

MORNING HYMN,
(and at Night, instead of Te Lucis), from Ascension-Day to Whit-Sunday.

S. MARK, xvi. 19.—“So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into Heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.”

I.

Jesu, nostra Redemptio,
Amor et desiderium,
Deus, Creator omnium,
Homo, in fine temporum ;

II.

Quæ Te vicit clementia,
Ut ferres nostra crimina,
Crudelem mortem patiens,
Ut nos à morte tolleres !

III.

Inferni claustra penetrans,
Tuos captivos redimens,
Victor triumpho nobili
Ad dextram Patris resides.

IV.

Ipsa Te cogat pietas,
Ut mala nostra superes
Parcendo, et voti compotes
Nos Tuo vultu saties.

V.

Tu esto nostrum gaudium,
Qui es futurus præmium ;
Sit nostra in Te gloria
Per cuncta semper sæcula.

VI.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui scandis super sidera,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

Jesu, Redemption all divine,
Whom here we love, for Whom we pine,
God, working out creation's plan,
And, in the latter time, made Man ;

II.

What love of Thine was that, which led
To take our woes upon Thy Head,
And pangs and cruel death to bear,
To ransom us from death's despair !

III.

To Thee Hell's gate gave ready way,
Demanding there his captive prey :
And now, in pomp and victor's pride,
Thou sittest at the Father's side.

IV.

Let very mercy force Thee still
To spare us, conquering all our ill ;
And, granting that we ask, on high
With thine Own Face to satisfy.

V.

Be Thou our Joy and Thou our Guard,
Who art to be our great Reward :
Our glory and our boast in Thee
For ever and for ever be !

VI.

All glory, Lord, to Thee we pay
Ascending o'er the stars to-day ;
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

I.

BLEST joys for mighty wonders wrought
The year's revolving orb has brought,
What time the Holy Ghost in flame
Upon the Lord's Disciples came.

II.

The quivering fire their heads bedewed,
In cloven tongues' similitude,
That eloquent their words might be,
And fervid all their charity.

III.

In varying tongues the Lord they praised ;
The gathering peoples stood amazed ;
And whom the Comforter Divine
Inspired, they mocked, as full of wine.

IV.

These things were done in type to-day,
When Eastertide had worn away,
The number told which once set free
The captive at the Jubilee.

V.

Thy servants, falling on their face,
Beseech Thy mercy, God of grace,
To send us, from Thy heavenly seat,
The blessings of the Paraclete.

VI.

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, praise be done :
And Christ the Saviour on us send
The Spirit's Gift, world without end. Amen.

COME, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire,
And lighten with celestial fire :
Thou the anointing Spirit art,
Who dost Thy seven-fold gifts impart.

II.

Thy blessed Unction from above
Is comfort, life, and fire of love :
Enable with perpetual light
The dulness of our blinded sight.

III.

Anoint and cheer our soiled face,
With the abundance of Thy grace :
Keep far our foes, give peace at home :
Where Thou art guide, no ill can come.

IV.

Teach us to know the Father. Son,
And Thee of Both, to be but One :
That through the ages all along,
This may be our endless song ;

Praise to Thy eternal merit,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Amen.

Ipsum nam sterili flore peraridum
Sprevere penitus, Teque secuti sunt,
Jesu, Rex Bone, cœlitus.

III.

Hi pro Te furias atque ferocia
Calcarunt hominum sævaque verbera :
Cessit his lacerans fortiter ungula,
Nec carpsit penetralia.

IV.

Cæduntur gladiis more bidentium :
Non murmur resonat, non querimonia ;
Sed corde tacito mens bene conscia
Conservat patientiam.

I.

THE merits of the Saints,
Blessed for evermore,
Their love that never faints,
The toils they bravely bore,—
For these the Church to-day
Pours forth her joyous lay ;
These victors win the noblest bay.

II.

They, whom this world of ill,
While it yet held, abhorrd :
Its with'ring flowers that still
They spurn'd with one accord :
They knew them short-liv'd all,
And followed at thy call,
King Jesu, to Thy Heavenly Hall.

III.

For Thee all pangs they bare,
Fury and mortal hate,
The cruel scourge to tear,
The hook to lacerate ;
But vain their foes' intent :
For, every torment spent,
Their valiant spirits stood unbent.

IV.

Like sheep their blood they pour'd :
And without groan or tear,
They bent before the sword
For That their King most dear ;
Their souls, serenely blest,
In patience they possess'd,
And looked in hope towards their rest.

V.

What tongue may here declare,
Fancy or thought descry,
The joys Thou dost prepare
For these Thy Saints on high !
Empurpled in the flood
Of their victorious blood,
They won the laurel from their God.

VI.

To Thee, O Lord Most High,
One in Three Persons still,
To pardon us we cry,
And to preserve from ill :
Here give Thy servants peace ;
Hereafter, glad release, [Amen.
And pleasures that shall never cease.

EVENING HYMN

For the Festival of S. Michael and all Angels.

Rev. xii. 7.—“There was war in heaven : Michael and his Angels fought against the dragon ; and the dragon fought and his angels, and prevailed not ; neither was their place found any more in heaven.”

I.

*Tibi Christe Splendor Patris,
Vita, virtus cordium,
In conspectu Angelorum
Votis, voce, psallimus ;
Alternantes, concrepantes,
Melos damus vocibus,*

II.

*Collaudamus venerantes

*THEE, O Christ, the Father's Splendour,
Life and virtue of the heart,
In the presence of the Angels
Sing we now with tuneful art :
Meetly in alternate chorus
Bearing our responsive part.*

II.

*Thus we praise with veneration
All the armies of the sky ;
Chiefly him, the warrior Primate
Of celestial chivalry :
Michael, who in princely virtue
Cast Abaddon from on high.*

III.

*By whose watchful care repelling,
King of everlasting grace !
Every ghostly adversary,
All things evil, all things base,
Grant us of Thine only goodness
In Thy Paradise a place.*

EVENING HYMN
for the Dedication of a Church.

REV. XXI. 2.—“I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.”

I.

URBS Beata Hierusalem,
Dicta pacis visio;
Quæ construitur in cœlis,
Vivis ex lapidibus,
Et angelis coronata,
Ut sponsata comite!

II.

Nova veniens de cœlo,
Nuptiali thalamo
Præparata, ut sponsata
Copuletur Domino;
Plateæ et muri ejus
Ex auro purissimo.

III.

Portæ nitent margaritis,
Adytis patentibus,
Et virtute meritum
Illuc introducitur
Omnis qui pro Christi Nomine
Hoc in mundo premitur.

IV.

Tusionibus, pressuris,
Expoliti lapides
Suis coaptantur locis
Per manus Artificis,
Disponuntur permansuri
Sacris ædificiis.

V.

Gloriæ et honor Deo
Usquequo altissimo,
Una Patri Filioque,
Inclyto Paraclito,
Cui laus est et potestas
Per æterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

BLESSED City, Heav'nly Salem,
Vision dear of Peace and Love,
Who, of living stones upbuilded,
Art the joy of Heav'n above,
And, with angel cohorts circled,
As a bride to earth dost move!

II.

From celestial realms descending,
Ready for the nuptial bed,
To His presence, deck'd with jewels,
By her Lord shall she be led:
All her streets and all her bulwarks
Of pure gold are fashioned.

III.

Bright with pearls her portals glitter;
They are open evermore;
And, by virtue of His merits,
Thither faithful souls may soar,
Who for Christ's dear Name, in this world
Pain and tribulation bore.

IV.

Many a blow and biting sculpture
Polish'd well those stones elect,
In their places now compacted
By the Heavenly Architect,
Who therewith hath will'd for ever
That His Palace should be deck'd.

V.

Laud and honour to the Father;
Laud and honour to the Son;
Laud and honour to the Spirit;
Ever Three, and ever One:
Consubstantial, Co-eternal,
While unending ages run. Amen

Hymn 44. Angulare Fundamentum.

MORNING HYMN
for the Dedication of a Church.

1. PETER, ii. 6.—“Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.”

I.

ANGULARE Fundamentum
Lapis Christus missus est,
Qui compage parietis
In utroque nectitur,
Quem Sion sancta suscepit,
In quo credens permanet.

II.

Omnis illa dedicata
Et dilecta civitas,
Plena modulis in laude
Et canoro jubilo,
Trinum Deum Unicumque
Cum favore prædicant.

III.

Hoc in templo, summe Deus,
Exoratus adveni,
Et clementi bonitate
Precum vota suscipe;
Largam benedictionem
Hic infunde jugiter.

IV.

Hic promereantur omnes
Petita acquirere,
Et adepta possidere
Cum sanctis perenniter;
Paradisum introire
Translati in requiem,

V.

Gloria et honor Deo
Usquequo altissimo,
Una Patri Filioque,
Inclyto Paraclito,
Cui laus est et potestas
Per æterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

CHRIST is made the sure Foundation,
And the precious Corner-stone,
Who, the two-fold walls surmounting,
Binds them closely into one:
Holy Sion's help for ever,
And her confidence alone.

II.

All that dedicated City, -
Dearly lov'd by God on high,
In exultant jubilation
Pours perpetual melody;
God the One and God the Trinal
Singing everlastingly.

III.

To this Temple, where we call Thee,
Come, O LORD of Hosts, to-day!
With Thy wonted loving-kindness
Hear Thy people as they pray;
And thy fullest benediction
Shed within its walls for aye.

IV.

Here vouchsafe to all Thy servants
That they supplicate to gain:
Here to have and hold for ever
Those good things their pray'rs obtain.
And hereafter in Thy Glory
With thy Blessed ones to reign.

V.

Laud and honour to the Father;
Laud and honour to the Son;
Laud and honour to the Spirit;
Ever Three and ever One:
Consubstantial, Co-eternal,
While unending ages run. Amen.

Cœlestis urbs Jerusalem.

EVENING HYMN
for the Dedication of a Church.

REV. xxi. 2.—“I saw the Holy City, New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.”

I.

CŒLESTIS urbs Jerusalem,
Beata pacis visio,
Quæ celsa de viventibus
Saxis ad astra tolleris,
Sponsæque ritu cingeris
Mille Angelorum millibus !

II.

O sorte nupta prosperâ,
Dotata Patris gloriâ,
Respersa Sponsi gratiâ,
Regina formosissima,
Christo jugata Principi
Cœli corusca civitas !

III.

Hic margaritis emicant,
Patentque cunctis ostia :
Virtute namque præviâ
Mortalis illuc ducitur,
Amore Christi percitus
Tormenta quisquis sustinet.

IV.

Scalpri salubris ictibus
Et tunsione plurimâ,
Fabri polita malleo
Hanc saxa molem construunt,
Aptisque juncta nexibus
Locantur in fastigio.

V.

Decus Parenti debitum
Sit usquequaque Altissimo,
Natoque Patris unico,
Et inclyto Paraclito,
Cui laus, potestas, gloria
Æterna sit per sæcula. Amen.

I.

THOU, heavenly, new Jerusalem,
Vision of peace in prophet's dream !
With living stones built up on high,
And rising to yon starry sky ;
In bridal pomp thy form is crown'd,
With thousand thousand angels round !

II.

O Bride, betrothed in happy hour,
The Father's glory is thy dower ;
Thy Bridegroom's grace is shed on Thee,
Thou Queen all fair, eternally !
To Christ allied, thy Prince ador'd,
Bright shining city of the Lord !

III.

Behold, with pearls they glittering stand !
Thy peaceful gates to all expand !
By grace and strength divinely shed,
Each mortal thither may be led,
Who, kindled by Christ's love, will dare
All earthly sufferings now to bear.

IV.

By many a salutary stroke,
By many a weary blow, that broke,
Or polished, with a workman's skill,
The stones that form that glorious pile ;
They all are fitly framed to lie
In their appointed place on high.

V.

Fair and well pleasing in thy sight,
Parent most High, enthroned in light !
And for Thine Only Son most meet,
And Thee, all glorious Paraclete :
To Whom praise, power, and glory rise,
For ever through th' eternal skies. Amen.

Ⓔ quanta qualia sunt illa Sabbata.

SATURDAY EVENING HYMN.

HEB. IV., 9.—“There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.”

- | | |
|---|--|
| I.—O QUANTA qualia
sunt illa Sabbata,
Quæ semper celebrat
superna curia!
Quæ fessis requies,
quæ merces fortibus,
Cum erit omnia
Deus in omnibus! II.—Quis rex, quæ curia, quale palatium,
Quæ pax, quæ requies,
quod illud gaudium?
Hujus participes
exponent gloriæ,
Si, quantum sentiunt
possint exprimere. III.—Vere Jerusalem
est illa civitas,
Cujus pax jugis est
summa jocunditas:
Ubi non prævenit
rem desiderium,
Nec desiderio
minus est præmium. IV.—Ibi molestiis finitis omnibus,
Securi cantica
Sion cantabimus:
Et juges gratias
de donis gratiæ
Beata referet
plebs tibi, Domine. V.—Illic nec Sabbato succedit Sabbatum:
Perpes lætitia
Sabbatizantium:
Nec ineffabiles
cessabunt jubili,
Quos decantabimus et nos et angeli. VI.—Nostrum est interim mentes erigere,
Et totis Patriam
votis appetere
Et ad Jerusalem
a Babylonîa,
Post longa regredi tandem exilia. VII.—Perenni Domino perpes sit gloria,
Ex quo sunt, per quem sunt,
in quo sunt omnia:
Ex quo sunt,—Pater est:
per quem sunt,—Filius:
In quo sunt,—Patris et
Filii Spiritus. Amen. | I.—O WHAT their joy and their glory must be,— Those endless Sabbaths
the blessed ones see!
Crown for the valiant:
to weary ones rest:
God shall be all,
and in all ever blest. II.—What are the Monarch,
His court, and His throne?
What are the peace
and the joy that they own?
Tell us, ye blest ones,
that in it have share,
If what ye feel
ye can fully declare. III.—Truly “Jerusalem” name we that shore,
“Vision of Peace”
that brings joy evermore!
Wish and fulfilment
can sever’d be ne’er;
Nor the thing pray’d for come short of the prayer. IV.—We, where no trouble distraction can bring,
Safely the anthems
of Sion shall sing:
While for Thy grace, Lord, their voices of praise
Thy blessed people shall evermore raise. V.—There dawns no Sabbath,— no Sabbath is o’er;
Those Sabbath-keepers have one, and no more;
One and unending
is that triumph-song
Which to the Angels and us shall belong. VI.—Now in the meanwhile, with hearts raised on high,
We for that Country
must yearn and must sigh:
Seeking Jerusalem,
dear native land,
Through our long exile
on Babylon’s strand. VII.—Low before Him with our praises we fall,
Of Whom, and in Whom,
and through Whom are all:
Of Whom,—the Father;
and in Whom,—the Son;
Through Whom,—the Spirit,
with These ever One. Amen. |

Hymn 48 (or 3)

SATURDAY EVENING HYMN.

HEB. iv., 10.—“For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from His.”

I.

Post facta celsa Conditor,
Die quiescens septimā,
Eam vocari in sæcula
Et esse jussit Sabbatum.

II.

Nam morte mortem destruens,
Sextā subegit Sabbati;
Quievit ast in Sabbato
In corde terræ conditus.

III.

Et sex in hujus sæculi
Ætatibus nos præcipit
Nostram ferendo jam crucem,
Jus omne leti vincere.

IV.

Intrabimus post omnia
Devicta mundi prælia,
Carnis soluti vinculis,
Vitæ perennis Sabbatum.

V.

Sequetur Una Sabbati,
Claudenda nullo termino,
Cum carnis immortalitas
Æterna nobis redditur.

VI.

Sic carnis atque spiritus
Bino potiti gaudio,
Scandemus ad celestia
Regni perennis moenia.

VII.

Præsta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

I.

God ended all the world's array,
And rested on the Seventh Day:
His holy voice proclaimed it blest,
And named it for the Sabbath rest.

II.

And He Who death by death subdued,
And yesterday our life renewed,
On Saturday His Sabbath kept,
As in the heart of earth he slept.

III.

His servants, while they dwell below,
Six days of this world's labour know:
Six days to bear the Cross have they,
And o'er Hell's pow'rs to force their way.

IV.

But when the conflict shall be o'er,
And conquer'd sin can harm no more,
The soul, released from fleshly chain,
Shall life's eternal Sabbath gain.

V.

Then, then that Sunday shall ensue,
Whose end no eye shall ever view;
When this our flesh, from sin set free,
Shall put on immortality.

VI.

Then soul and body shall possess
United, double blessedness:
When we the ramparts shall ascend
Of that bright realm which cannot end.

VII.

O Father, that we ask be done,
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son,
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen

Hymn 49 (or 6)

Omnes una celebremus.

SUNDAY MORNING HYMN.

HEB. x., 24.—"Let us consider one another, to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together."

I.

OMNES una celebremus,
Celebrando veneremus,
Christi nunc solemnia.

II.

Ecce dies magnus Dei,
Dies summæ requiei,
Dies est Dominica.

III.

In quâ mundus sumpsit exordium,
In quâ vitæ cepit initium,
Hæc est dies :

IV.

In quâ Christus contrivit inferos,
Plasma suum vexit ad superos,
Hæc est dies :

V.

In quâ pax Apostolis
Datur, clausis januis,
A divino munere.

VI.

In quâ Sancti Spiritûs
Sunt repleti gratiâ
Doctores Ecclesiæ.

VII.

In eâdem sumitur
Tuba Evangelii
Prædicandi populo.

VIII.

Celebrantes veneremus,
Et devote postulemus,
Ut, die novissimâ,

IX.

In eternâ requie
Nostræ vivant animæ
Redemptoris gratiâ! Amen.

I.

IN our common celebration,
Thanks and holy veneration
To Christ's Festival be paid.

II.

This the day that God hath blest,
This the day that calls to rest,
This the day the Lord hath made.

III.

Wherein the world its first creation knew,
Whence better life its earliest being drew,
This is the day :

IV.

Wherein Christ burst the bars of hell in twain,
And raised His handiwork to heaven again,
This is the day :

V.

When the peace that is from heaven
Was bestowed upon the Eleven,
As the doors were closed at night

VI.

When the Holy Spirit's flame
On the Church's teachers came,
Filling them with grace and light.

VII.

When the Priests their trumpets take,
And the gospel message wake,
And the people hear aright.

VIII.

In this festal celebration
Make we earnest supplication,
That our ransomed spirits may,

IX.

Through Christ's mercy, with the blest,
Enter on eternal rest,
At the fearful Judgment Day! Amen.

Hymn 50 (or 7)

Quando noctis medium.

SUNDAY MORNING HYMN.

COL. II., 16, 17.—“Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath days: Which are a shadow of things to come: but the body is of Christ.”

I.

QUANDO noctis medium
Factum est silentium,
Virginis in gremium
Misit Deus Filium
Ad salutem gentium.

II.

Laudet Deum omne os,
Quia patet nova dos,
De excelsa cadit ros,
Et in terrâ crescit flos,
Cujus odor sanat nos.

III.

Deus Homo nascitur;
Pannis lux involvitur;
Laus in cœlis canitur;
Mundo salus oritur,
Et pax terris redditur.

IV.

Ibi regem de Sion
Expavescit Rex Ammon;
Ibi tremit Babylon,
Quia noster Salomon
Coronatur in Geon.

V.

Ibi crux erigitur;
Ligno Deus figitur;
Vita victrix ungitur;
Auctor mortis moritur;
Morte mors destruitur.

VI.

Post occasum funeris
Redit Sol ab inferis;
Dotem clari muneris
Pro mercede operis
Representat superis.

VII.

Salva nos et redime
Genitor piissime,
Propter vota maxime
Tuæ Prolis optimæ
Quem tu amas intime. Amen.

I.

WHEN in silence and in shade
Earth, at midnight, had been laid,—
Working out the Father's plan,
In the Virgin's womb made man,
God His earthly life began.

II.

By each mouth His praise be showed,
For the new gift now bestowed;
From on high came down the dew,
From the earth the flow'et grew,
Health in mortals to renew.

III.

Very God as Man is born;
Swaddling clothes enwrap the Morn;
Praise by angel tongues is poured;
Earth is ransomed by the Lord;
Peace to sinners is restored.

IV.

Ammon's king, in woe and grief,
Owns the dread of Sion's chief;
Trembles haughty Babylon,
When they set the Royal Crown
On our truer Solomon.

V.

There the Cross is reared on high,
And their God they crucify;
Conquering Life in death hath lain,
Death's contriver falls again,
Death itself by death is slain.

VI.

After sunset in the grave
Comes our Sun again to save,
And He shews the glory, won
By the deeds His hand hath done,
To the Blest around the Throne.

VII.

Holy Father, now we crave,
Hear us, and redeem and save;
Let the things we ask be done
Through Thy well-beloved Son,
With Thee and the Spirit One. Amen.

Hymn 51 (or 8)

En dies est Dominica.

SUNDAY MORNING HYMN.

REV. i., 10.—“I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day.”

I.

EN dies est Dominica,
Summo cultu dignissima ;
Ob octavam Dominicæ
Resurrectionis sacræ.

II.

Christi nam resurrectio
Nostra scitur provectio ;
Quotquot in ipsum credimus
Cum ipso resurreximus.

III.

In ipso sumus singuli
Facti superditissimi :
Sunt sua quæque propria
Nobis facta communia.

IV.

Claritas, perpetuitas,
Beata immortalitas,
Gaudia, pax, deliciæ,
Ex ejus nobis munere.

V.

Horum pia memoria
Die fiat Dominicâ :
Ne maneamus inscii
Cur dies fertur Domini.

VI.

Tibi factori temporum,
Qui vera quies mentium,
Sit laus, honor, et gloria
Hæc die et in sæcula. Amen.

I.

THE Sunday Morn again is here,
That all the faithful must revere,
For on this day, the eighth and first,
Our rising Lord death's fetters burst.

II.

And by His flock, hath Christ declared,
His Resurrection must be shared :
For we, who trust in Him to save,
Have risen with Him, and left the grave.

III.

We, one and all, of Him possess,
Are made most rich, are made most blest :
For all He did, and all He bare,
He gave us as our own to share.

V.

Eternal rest, a Home on high,
A blessed immortality,
And peace and gladness, and a throne,
Are all His gifts, and all our own.

V.

And therefore kept must Sunday be
In these things' pious memory,
That Christian men to heart may lay
Why this is called the Lord's own day.

VI.

Ruler of times, God ever blest,
The heart's true peace and very rest !
Thy love we praise, Thy Name adore
Both on this day and evermore. Amen.

Hymn 52 (or 9)*

Hæc die surgens Dominus.

SUNDAY MORNING HYMN.

ROM. VI., 4.—* * * * “We are buried with Him by baptism into death : that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.”

I.

Hæc die surgens Dominus
Non morietur amplius :
Quod in ipso realiter
In nobis sit mentaliter.

II.

Hæc die resurrectio
A quovis fiat vitio ;
Ne per consensum libera
Huic succumbat anima.

III.

Penset, quid sit, quo venerit,
Ubi sit, cur creata sit,—
Quorsum erit et reditus,
Votis cunctis et actibus.

IV.

Ex Deo in miserias,
Luce venit in tenebras,
Quæ ad Dei imaginem
Facta et similitudinem.

V.

Præsentem mens Dominica
Comparet ad præterita ;
Penset, quantum profecerit,
Quantum quoque defecerit.

VI.

Mala detestans caveat,
Bona servare studeat,
Instantemque hebdomadam
Novam putet militiam.

VII.

Intime quoque gaudet
Quod adhuc tempus habeat
Profectum posse facere
Tam gratiæ quam gloriæ.

VIII.

Tibi factori temporum,
Qui vera quies mentium,
Sit laus, honor, et gloria
Hæc die et in sæcula. Amen.

I.

CHRIST being raised from death of yore,
As on this day, can die no more ;
And that which He in body wrought
By us in spirit must be sought.

II.

This is the day that we must win
A resurrection from all sin,
Lest by consent the soul, though free,
The slave of Satan's wiles should be.

III.

But whence we came, and what our state,
And where we are, and why create,
And whither we must soon depart,
These thoughts to-day should fill the heart.

IV.

From God on high to this world's frame,
To darkness out of light we came,
The work of God Himself, endued
With His own blest similitude.

V.

Between this day and Sundays gone
The soul should draw comparison,
And find what progress it has made,
And where its powers have been decayed :

VI.

Each evil way should hate and flee,
The path of right keep earnestly ;
And think that each new week will yield
New struggle in new battlefield :

VII.

And still rejoice, because we know
That we have time as yet below,
Wherein we may advance apace,
As well to glory, as in grace.

VIII.

Ruler of times, God ever blest,
The heart's true peace and very rest !
Thy love we praise, Thy Name adore,
Both on this day and evermore. Amen.

SUNDAY EVENING HYMN.

Ps. cxxi., 4.—“Behold, He That keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.”

I.

Ades, Pater Supreme,
Quem nemo vidit unquam :
Patrisque Sermo, Christe,
Et Spiritus benigne.

II.

O Trinitatis hujus
Vis una, lumen unum :
Deus ex Deo perennis,
Deus ex utroque missus.

III.

Fluxit labor diei,
Redit quietis hora :
Blandus sopor vicissimo,
Fessos relaxat artus.

IV.

Cultor Dei, memento
Te fontis et lavacri
Rorem subisse sanctum,
Te chrismate innovatum

V.

O tortuose serpens,
Qui mille per mæandros,
Fraudesque flexuosas
Agitas quieta corda,

VI.

Discede, Christus hic est :
Hic Christus est ; liquesce :
Signum, quod ipse nōsti,
Damnat tuam catervam.

VII.

Corpus licet fatiscens
Jaceat reclive paulum,
Christum tamen sub ipso
Meditabimur sopore.

VIII.

Gloria æterno Patri,
Et Christo vero regi,
Paracritoque Sancto,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

Be present, Holy Father,
Unseen by mortal eye ;
And Christ the Word Eternal,
And Spirit from on high !

II.

Thou Trinity, in Essence
And light and virtue One :
Father, and Son, and Spirit
Of Father and of Son :

III.

The toil of day is over ;
The hour of rest comes round :
And in its turn kind slumber
Our members hath unbound.

IV.

Servant of Christ, remember
The Font's Baptismal dew :
Remember thy renewal
In Confirmation too.

V.

And thou, O crafty serpent,
Who seek'st by many an art,
And many a guileful winding,
To vex the quiet heart :

VI.

Depart, for Christ is present :
Since Christ is here, give place :
And let the sign thou ownest
Thy ghostly legions chase.

VII.

And though awhile the body
In sleep may lie reclined,
Yet Christ, in very slumber,
Shall fill the Christian mind.

VIII.

All laud to God the Father,
All laud to God the Son ;
To God the Holy Spirit
Be equal honour done. Amen.

Splendor Paternæ gloriæ.

MONDAY MORNING HYMN.

GEN. I, 7.—“And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament : and it was so.”

I.

SPLENDOR Paternæ gloriæ,
De luce lucem proferens,
Lux lucis, et fons luminis,
Diem dies illuminans :

II.

Vernusque Sol, illabere,
Micans nitore perpeti :
Jubarque Sancti Spiritus
Infunde nostris sensibus.

III.

Votis vocemus te Patrem,
Patrem perennis gloriæ,
Patrem potentis gratiæ :
Culpam releget lubricam.

IV.

Informet actus strenuos
Dentem retundat invidi :
Causa secundet asperos :
Donet gerendi gratiam.

V.

Mentem gubernet et regat
Casto fideli corpore :
Fides calore ferveat,
Fraudis venena nesciat.

VI.

Christusque nobis sit cibus,
Potusque noster sit fides :
Læti bibamus sobriam
Ebrietatem Spiritûs.

VII.

Lætus dies hic transeat ;
Pudor sit ut diluculum ;
Fides velut meridies ;
Crepusculum mens nesciat.

VIII.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

Thou Brightness of the Father's ray,
True Light of light and Day of day :
Light's fountain and eternal spring :
Thou Morn the morn illumining !

II.

Glide in, Thou very Sun divine ;
With everlasting brightness shine :
And shed abroad on every sense
The Spirit's light and influence.

III.

Thee, Father, let us seek aright :
The Father of perpetual light :
The Father of Almighty grace :
Each wile of sin away to chase.

IV.

Our acts with courage do Thou fill :
Blunt Thou the Tempter's tooth of ill :
Misfortune into good convert,
Or give us grace to bear unhurt.

V.

Our spirits, whatsoe'er betide,
In chaste and loyal bodies guide ;
Let Faith, with fervour unalloy'd,
The bane of falsehood still avoid ;

VI.

And Christ our daily food be nigh :
And Faith our daily cup supply :
So may we quaff, to calm and bless,
The Spirit's rapturous holiness.

VII.

Now let the day in joy pass on :
Our modesty like early dawn,
Our faith like noontide splendour glow,
Our souls the twilight never know.

VIII.

All laud to God the Father be :
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee :
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

From the SALISBURY HYMNAL.

Splen-dor Pa - ter - næ glo - ri - æ, De lu - ce lu - cem pro - fe - rens,
Thou Brightness of the Father's ray, True Light of light and Day of day:

The first system of musical notation for 'Splendor Paternæ gloriæ'. It features a soprano line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The melody is written in a simple, hymn-like style. Below the soprano line are two staves for piano accompaniment, with a bass clef and the same key signature. The piano part consists of chords and single notes, providing a harmonic foundation for the vocal line.

Lux lu - cis, et fons lu - mi - nis, Di - em di - es il - lu - minans. A - men.
Light's fountain and e - ter - nal spring: Thou Morn the morn il - lu - mining. A - men.

The second system of musical notation for 'Splendor Paternæ gloriæ'. It continues the melody from the first system. The piano accompaniment includes some chromatic movement, with notes like F-sharp and C-sharp appearing in the bass line. The system concludes with a double bar line.

N.B.—This Harmony may be used interchangeably with those for Hymns 56^I, 58^I, 60^I, 62^I, 64^I.

Splendor Pa - ter - næ glo - ri - æ, De lu - ce lu - cem pro - fe - rens,
Thou Brightness of the Fa - ther's ray, True Light of light and Day of day:

The first system of musical notation for the second melody of 'Splendor Paternæ gloriæ'. The key signature has changed to two sharps (D major). The melody is more ornate than the first, with many beamed sixteenth and thirty-second notes. The piano accompaniment is also more complex, with frequent sixteenth-note patterns in both hands.

Lux lu - cis, et fons . . lu - mi - nis, Di - em . . di - es il - lu - minans. A - men.
Light's foun - tain and e - - - ter - nal spring: Thou Morn the morn il - lu - miniug. A - men.

The second system of musical notation for the second melody. It continues the complex, fast-paced melody. The piano part features intricate chordal textures and rapid sixteenth-note passages. The system ends with a double bar line.

Hymn 55 (or 18)

Immense cœli Conditor.

MONDAY EVENING HYMN.

GEN. I., 8.—“ And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.”

I.

IMMENSE cœli conditor,
Qui mixta ne confunderent,
Aquæ fluentia dividens
Cœlum dedisti limitem :

II.

Firmans locum cœlestibus,
Simulque terræ rivulis,
Ut unda flammas temperet,
Terræ solum ne dissipet :

III.

Infunde nunc, piissime,
Donum perennis gratiæ,
Fraudis novæ ne casibus
Nos error atterat vetus.

IV.

Lucem fides inveniat,
Sic luminis jubar ferat ;
Hæc vana cuncta terreat,
Hanc falsa nulla comprimant.

V.

Præsta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

I.

O GREAT Creator of the sky,
Who wouldest not the floods on high
With earthly waters to confound,
But mad'st the firmament their bound :

II.

The floods above Thou didst ordain :
The floods below Thou didst restrain :
That moisture might attemper heat,
Lest the parch'd earth should ruin meet.

III.

Upon our souls, good Lord, bestow
The gift of grace in endless flow :
Lest some renew'd deceit, or wile
Of former sin, should us beguile.

IV.

Let Faith discover heav'nly light :
So shall its ray direct us right :
And let this Faith each error chase :
And never give to falsehood place.

V.

Hymn 56 (or 19)

Alex diei nuncius.

TUESDAY MORNING HYMN.

MARK xiii., 35.—“Watch ye, therefore : for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even or at midnight, or at the cock crowing, or in the morning.”

I.

ALEX diei nuncius
Lucem propinquam præcinit :
Nos, excitator mentium,
JAM Christus ad vitam vocat.

II.

Auferte, clamat, lectulos,
Ægros, soporos, desides .
Castique, recti, ac sobrii
Vigilate : jam sum proximus.

III.

Jesum ciamus vocibus,
Flentes, precantes, sobrii :
Intenta supplicatio
Dormire cor mundum vetat.

IV.

Tu, Ohriste, somnum discute ;
Tu rumpe noctis vincula ;
Tu solve peccatum vetus,
Novumque lumeningere.

V.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

THE winged herald of the day
Proclaims the morn's approaching ray :
And Ohrist the Lord our souls excites,
And so to endless life invites.

II.

Take up thy bed, to each He cries,
Who sick, or wrapped in slumber lies :
And chaste and just and sober stand,
And watch : My coming is at hand.

III.

With earnest cry, with tearful care,
Call we the Lord to hear our prayer ;
While supplication, pure and deep,
Forbids each chastened heart to sleep.

IV.

Do Thou, O Christ, our slumbers wake ;
Do Thou the chains of darkness break ;
Purge Thou our former sins away,
And in our souls new light display.

V.

All laud to God the Father be :
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee :
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

Ales diei nuncius.

Hymn 57 (or 20)

Telluris ingens Conditor.

TUESDAY EVENING HYMN.

GEN i., 10, 13.—“ And God called the dry land Earth : and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas.
* * * And the evening and the morning were the third day.”

I.

TELLURIS ingens Conditor
Mundi solum qui eruens,
Pulsis aquæ molestiis,
Terram dedisti immobilem ;

II.

Ut germen aptum proferens
Fulvis decora floribus,
Fœcunda fructu sisteret,
Pastumque gratum redderet :

III.

Mentis perustæ vulnera
Munda viroris gratiâ,
Ut facta fletu diluat,
Motusque pravos atterat ;

IV.

Jussis tuis obtemperet,
Nullis malis approximet,
Bonis repleti gaudeat,
Et mortis actum nesciat.

V.

Præsta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

I.

EARTH's mighty Maker, Whose command
Raised from the sea the solid land :
And drove each billowy heap away,
And bade the earth stand firm for aye :

II.

That so with flowers of golden hue,
The seeds of each it might renew :
And fruit-trees bearing fruit might yield,—
And pleasant pasture of the field

III.

Our spirit's rankling wounds efface
With dewy freshness of Thy grace :
That grief may cleanse each deed of ill,
And o'er each lust may triumph still.

IV.

Let every soul Thy law obey
And keep from every evil way ;
Rejoice each promis'd good to win,
And flee from every mortal sin.

V.

O Father, that we ask be done
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son ;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

Hymn 58 (or 21)

Nox, et tenebræ, et nubila.

WEDNESDAY MORNING HYMN.

GEN. i., 14.—“ And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven, to divide the day from the night.”

I.

Nox, et tenebræ, et nubila,
Confusa mundi, et turbida :
Lux intrat, albescit polus :
Christus venit, discedite.

II.

Caligo terræ scinditur,
Percussa solis spiculo ;
Rebusque jam color redit
Vultu nitentis sideris.

III.

Te, Christe, solum novimus :
Te mente purâ et simplici,
Flendo, canendo, quæsumus,
Intende nostris sensibus.

IV.

Sunt multa fuscis illita
Quæ luce purgentur tuâ :
Tu, lux Eoi sideris,
Vultu sereno illumina.

V.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

HENCE, night and clouds that night-time brings,
Confused and dark and troubled things ;
The dawn is here : the sky grows white :
Christ is at hand : depart from sight !

II.

Earth's dusky veil is torn away,
Pierced by the sparkling beams of day :
The world resumes its hues apace
Soon as the Day-star shows its face.

III.

But Thee, O Christ, alone we seek,
With conscience pure and temper meek .
With tears and chants we humbly pray
That thou wouldst guide us through the day.

IV.

For many a shade obscures each sense,
Which needs Thy beams to purge it thence :
Light of the Morning Star ! illumine,
Serenely shining, all our gloom !

V.

All laud to God the Father be :
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee :
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

Hymn 59 (or 22)

Cœli Deus sanctissime.

WEDNESDAY EVENING HYMN.

GEN. i, 16, 19.—“ And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: He made the stars also. * * * And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.”

I.

Cœli Deus sanctissime
Qui lucidum centrum poli
Candore pingis igneo,
Augens decoro lumine;

II.

Quarto die qui flammeam
Solis rotam constituens,
Lunæ ministras ordinem,
Vagosque cursus siderum:

III.

Ut noctibus vel lumini
Diremptionis terminum,
Primordiis et mensium
Signum dares notissimum:

IV.

Illumina cor hominum,
Absterge sordes mentium,
Resolve culpæ vinculum,
Everte moles criminum.

V.

Præsta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

I.

O God, Whose Hand hath spread the sky
And all its shining hosts on high,
And painting it with fiery light,
Made it so beauteous and so bright:

II.

Thou, when the Wednesday was begun,
Didst frame the circle of the Sun,
And set the Moon for ordered change,
And planets for their wider range:

III.

To night and day, by certain line,
Their varying bounds Thou didst assign;
And gav'st a signal, known and meet,
For months begun and months complete.

IV.

Enlighten Thou the hearts of men:
Polluted souls make pure again:
Unloose the bands of guilt within:
Remove the burden of our sin.

V.

O Father, that we ask be done
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son;
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

Cœli Deus sanctissime.

59^I (or 22^I)

[Hymnal Noted, page 120.]

From the SALISBURY HYMNAL.
Harmonized by the REV. S. S. GREATHRED.

Cœ - li De - us sanc - tis - si - me Qui lu - ci - dum cen - trum po - li
O God, Whose Hand hath spread the sky And all its shin - ing hosts on high,

The first system of musical notation for 'Cœli Deus sanctissime'. It features a vocal line at the top with lyrics, and two piano accompaniment staves below. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is common time (C). The melody is simple and hymn-like.

After the last verse.
Can - do - re pin - gis ig - ne - o, Au - gens de - co - ro lu - mi - ne. A - men.
And painting it with fie - ry light, Made it so beauteous and so bright. A - men.

The second system of musical notation, following the first verse. It includes the same vocal and piano parts as the first system, with lyrics for the second verse. The notation continues the melodic and harmonic themes established in the first system.

N.B.—This Harmony may be used interchangeably with those for Hymns, 55^I, 57^I, 61^I, and 63^I.

Cœ - li De - us sanc - tis - si - me Qui lu - ci - dum cen - trum po - li
O God, Whose Hand hath spread the sky, And all its shin - ing hosts on high,

The first system of musical notation for the second version of 'Cœli Deus sanctissime'. The vocal line and piano accompaniment are more complex than in the first version, featuring more active rhythms and a different harmonic texture. The key signature remains two flats.

After the last verse.
Can - do - re pin - gis ig - ne - o, Au - gens de - co - ro lu - mi - ne. A - men.
And painting it with fie - ry light, Made it so beauteous and so bright. A - men.

The second system of musical notation for the second version, following the first verse. It continues the more complex musical style of the first system, with the same vocal and piano parts and lyrics for the second verse.

Hymn 60 (or 23)

Lux ecce surgit aurea.

THURSDAY MORNING HYMN.

S. JOHN xi., 9, 10. * * * "If any man walk in the day he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth."

I

Lux ecce surgit aurea .
Pallens fatiscat cæcitas,
Quæ nosmet in præceps diu
Errore traxit devio.

II.

Hæc lux serenum conferat,
Purosque nos præstet sibi :
Nihil loquamur subdolum ;
Volvamus obscurum nihil.

III.

Sic tota decurrat dies ;
Ne lingua mendax, nec manus,
Oculive peccent lubrici,
Nec noxa corpus inquinet.

IV.

Speculator adstat desuper
Qui nos diebus omnibus
Actusque nostros prospicit,
A luce primâ in vesperum.

V.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

i.

BHOLD the golden dawn arise ;
The paling night forsakes the skies :
Those shades that hid the world from view,
And us to dangerous error drew.

II.

May this new day be calmly past,
May we keep pure while it shall last ;
Nor let our lips from truth depart,
Nor dark designs engage the heart.

III.

So may the day speed on ; the tongue
No falsehood know, the hands no wrong :
Our eyes from wanton gaze refrain ;
No guilt our guarded bodies stain.

IV.

For God All-seeing from on high
Surveys us with a watchful eye ;
Each day our every act He knows,
From early dawn to evening's close.

V.

All laud to God the Father be :
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee :
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

Lux ecce surgit aurea.

60^I (or 23^I)

[Hymnal Noted, page 122.]

From the SALISBURY HYMNAL.

Lux ec-ce sur-git au-re-a: Pal-lens fa-tis-cat cœ-ci-tas, . .
Be-hold the gold-en dawn a-rise; The pal-ing night for-sakes the skies: .

After the last verse.

Quæ nos-met in præ-ceps di-u Er-ro-re trax-it de-vi-o. A-men
Those shades that hid the world from view, And us to dang'rous er-ror drew. A-men.

N.B.—This Harmony may be used Interchangeably with those for 54^I, 56^I, 58^I, 62^I, and 64^I.

Hymn 61 (or 24)

Magnæ Deus potentia.

THURSDAY EVENING HYMN.

GEN. i., 20, 23.—“And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven. * * * And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

I.

MAGNÆ Deus Potentiæ,
Qui ex aquis ortum genus
Partim remittis gurgiti,
Partim levas in aëra,

II.

Demersa lymphis imprimens,
Subvecta coelis irrogans,
Ut stirpe unâ prodita
Diversa rapiant loca;

III.

Largire cunctis servulis
Quos mundat unda sanguinis,
Nescire lapsus criminum,
Nec ferre mortis tædium;

IV.

Ut culpa nullum deprimat,
Nullum levet jactantia;
Elisa mens ne concidat,
Elata mens ne corruat.

V.

Præsta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

I.

ALMIGHTY God, Who from the flood
Didst bring to light a two-fold brood:
Part in the firmament to fly,
And part in ocean depths to lie:

II.

Appointing fishes in the sea,
And fowls in open air to be:
That each, by origin the same,
Its separate dwelling-place might claim:

III.

Grant that thy servants, by the tide
Of Blood and Water purified,
No guilty fall from Thee may know,
Nor death eternal undergo.

IV.

Let none despair through sin's distress;
Be none puffed up with boastfulness;
That contrite hearts be not dismayed,
Nor haughty souls in ruin laid.

V.

O Father, that we ask be done.
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son:
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally Amen.

Hymn 62 (or 25)

Æterna Cœli gloria.

FRIDAY MORNING HYMN.

1 COR. xiii., 13.—“And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.”

I.

ÆTERNA cœli gloria.
Beata spes mortalium.
Celsi Tonantis unice,
Castæque proles Virginis;

II.

Da dexteram surgentibus,
Exsurgat et mens sobria,
Flagransque in laudem Dei
Grates rependat debitas.

III.

Hortus refulget Lucifer,
Ipsamque lucem nunciat;
Kadat caligo noctium;
Lux sancta nos illuminet:

IV.

Manensque nostris sensibus
Noctem repellat sæculi;
Omni que finito die
Purgata servet pectora.

V.

Quæsitæ jam primum fides
Radicet altis sensibus;
Secunda spes congaudeat,
Tunc major extet charitas.

VI.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

ETERNAL Glory of the sky,
Blest hope of frail humanity,
The Father's Sole-begotten One,
Yet born a spotless Virgin's Son!

II.

Uplift us with Thine arm of might,
And let our hearts rise pure and bright
And ardent in God's praises, pay
The thanks we owe Him every day.

III.

The Day-star's rays are glittering clear,
And tell that Day itself is near:
The shadows of the night depart:
Thou, Holy Light, illumine the heart!

IV.

Within our senses ever dwell,
And worldly darkness thence expel:
Long as the days of life endure,
Preserve our souls devout and pure:

V.

The Faith that first must be possess'd,
Root deep within our inmost breast:
And joyous Hope in second place;
Then Charity, Thy greatest grace.

VI.

All laud to God the Father be:
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee:
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

Eterna Cœli gloria.

Hymn 63 (or 26)

Plasmator hominis Deus.

FRIDAY EVENING HYMN.

GEN. i. 31.—“ And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.”

I.

PLASMATOR hominis Deus,
Qui cuncta solus ordinans,
Humum jubes producere
Reptantis et fersæ genus ;

II.

Qui magna rerum corpora,
Dictu jubentis vivida,
Ut serviant per ordinem,
Subdens dedisti homini ;

III.

Repelle a servis tuis
Quicquid per immunditiam,
Aut moribus se suggerit,
Aut actibus se interserit.

IV.

Da gaudiorum præmia,
Da gratiarum munera,
Dissolve litis vincula,
Adstringe pacis fœdera.

V.

Præsta, Pater piissime,
Patrique compar Unice,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Regnans per omne sæculum. Amen.

I.

MAKER of men, from Heaven Thy Throne,
Who orderest all things, God alone ;
By Whose decree the teeming earth
To reptile and to beast gave birth :

II.

The mighty forms that fill the land,
Instinct with life at Thy command,
Thou gav'st subdued to humankind
For service in their rank assigned.

III.

From all Thy servants chase away
Whate'er of thought impure to-day
Hath mingled with the heart's intent,
Or with the actions hath been blent.

IV.

In Heaven, Thine endless joys bestow,
But grant Thy gifts of grace below :
From chains of strife our souls release ;
Bind fast the gentle bands of peace.

V.

O Father, that we ask be done
Through Jesus Christ, Thine Only Son :
Who, with the Holy Ghost and Thee,
Shall live and reign eternally. Amen.

Hymn 64 (or 27)

Aurora jam spargit polum.

SATURDAY MORNING HYMN.

2 PET. I., 19. * * * "A light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts."

I.

AURORA jam spargit polum,
Terris dies illabitur,
Lucis resultat spiculum,
Discedat omne lubricum.

II.

Phantasma noctis decadat;
Mentis reatus subruat;
Quicquid tenebris horridum
Nox attulit culpæ, cadat.

III.

Ut mane illud ultimum
Quod præstolamur cernui
In lucem nobis effluat,
Dum hoc canore concrepat:—

IV.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

DAWN sprinkles all the East with light •
Day o'er the earth is gliding bright:
Morn's glittering rays their course begin;
Farewell to darkness and to sin.

II.

Each phantom of the night depart,
Each thought of guilt forsake the heart •
Let every ill that darkness brought
Beneath its shade, now come to nought.

III.

So that last morning, dread and great,
Which we with trembling hope await,
With blessed light for us shall glow,
Who chant the song we sang below,—

IV.

All laud to God the Father be:
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee:
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

Aurora jam spargit polum.

64^I (or 27^I)

Hymn 65 (or 30)

Veni, veni, Emmanuel.

ADVENT.

MATT. i., 23. * * * "They shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us."

I.

Veni, veni, Emmanuel !
Captivum solve Israel,
Qui gemit in exilio,
Privatus Dei Filio.
Gaude ! gaude ! Emmanuel
Nascetur pro te, Israel.

II.

Veni, O Jesse virgula !
Ex hostis tuos ungula,
De specu tuos tartari
Educ, et antro barathri.
Gaude ! gaude ! Emmanuel
Nascetur pro te, Israel.

III.

Veni, veni, O Oriens !
Solare nos adveniens :
Noctis depelle nebulas,
Dirasque noctis tenebras.
Gaude ! gaude ! Emmanuel
Nascetur pro te, Israel.

IV.

Veni, clavis Davidica !
Regna reclude coelica,
Fac iter tutum superum,
Et claude vias inferum.
Gaude ! gaude ! Emmanuel
Nascetur pro te, Israel.

V.

Veni, veni, Adonai !
Qui populo in Sinai
Legem dedisti vertice,
In majestate gloriæ.
Gaude ! gaude ! Emmanuel
Nascetur pro te, Israel.

I.

DRAW nigh, draw nigh, Emmanuel,
And ransom captive Israel,
That mourns in lonely exile here,
Until the Son of God appear.
Rejoice ! Rejoice ! Emmanuel
Shall be born for thee, O Israel !

II.

Draw nigh, O Jesse's Rod, draw nigh,
To free us from the enemy ;
From Hell's infernal pit to save,
And give us victory o'er the grave.
Rejoice ! Rejoice ! Emmanuel
Shall be born for thee, O Israel !

III.

Draw nigh, Thou Orient, Who shalt cheer
And comfort by Thine Advent here,
And banish far the brooding gloom
Of sinful night and endless doom.
Rejoice ! Rejoice ! Emmanuel
Shall be born for thee, O Israel !

IV.

Draw nigh, draw nigh, O David's Key,
The Heavenly Gate will ope to Thee ;
Make safe the way that leads on high,
And close the path to misery.
Rejoice ! Rejoice ! Emmanuel
Shall be born for thee, O Israel !

V.

Draw nigh, draw nigh, O Lord of Might,
Who to Thy tribes from Sinai's height
In ancient time didst give the law,
In cloud, and majesty, and awe.
Rejoice ! Rejoice ! Emmanuel
Shall be born for thee, O Israel !

Veni, veni, Emmanuel.

Corde natus ex Parentis.

EVENING HYMN
from NATIVITY till EPIPHANY.

REV. i., 8.—“I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, Which is, and Which was and Which is to come, the Almighty.”

I.

CORDE natus ex parentis
Ante mundi exordium,
Alpha et Ω cognominatus,
Ipse fons et clausula
Omnium quæ sunt, fuerunt,
Quæque post futura sunt,
Sæculorum sæculis.

II.

Ecce, quem vates vetustis
Concinebant sæcula,
Quem prophetarum fideles
Paginæ sponderant,
Emicat promissus olim;
Cuncta collaudent Deum
Sæculorum sæculis.

III.

O beatus ortus ille!
Virgo cum puerpera
Edidit nostram salutem
Fœta Sancto Spiritu:
Et Puer Redemptor orbis
Os sacratum protulit,
Sæculorum sæculis.

IV.

Psallat altitudo cœli,
Psallant omnes angeli;
Quicquid est virtutis usquam
Psallat in laudem Dei;
Nulla linguarum silescat,
Vox et omnis personet,
Sæculorum sæculis.

V.

Te senes et te juvenus
Parvulorum te chorus,
Turba matrum virginumque
Simplices puellulæ,
Voce concordēs pudicis
Perstrepan̄t concentibus
Sæculorum sæculis.

VI.

Tibi, Christe, sit cum Patri
Agioque Spiritu
Hymnus, melos, laus perennis,
Gratiarum actio,
Honor, virtus, victoria,
Regnum æternaliter
Sæculorum sæculis. Amen

I.

Of the Father sole begotten,
Ere the worlds began to be,
He the Alpha and O mega,
He the source, the ending He,
Of the things that are, that have been,
And that future years shall see,
Evermore and evermore!

II.

He is here, Whom seers in old time
Chanted of, while ages ran;
Whom the writings of the Prophets
Promised since the world began:
Then foretold, now manifested,
To receive the praise of man,
Evermore and evermore!

III.

O that ever-blessed birthday,
When the Virgin, full of grace,
Of the Holy Ghost incarnate
Bare the Saviour of our race;
And that Child, the world's Redeemer
First displayed His Sacred Face,
Evermore and evermore!

IV.

Praise Him, O ye Heav'ns of Heavens!
Praise Him, Angels in the height!
Every Power and every Virtue
Sing the praise of God aright:
Let no tongue of man be silent,
Let each heart and voice unite,
Evermore and evermore!

V.

Thee let age, and Thee let manhood,
Thee let choirs of infants sing;
Thee the matrons and the virgins,
And the children answering:
Let their modest song re-echo,
And their heart its praises bring,
Evermore and evermore!

VI.

Laud and honour to the Father!
Laud and honour to the Son!
Laud and honour to the Spirit!
Ever Three and ever One:
Consubstantial, Coeternal,
While unending ages run,
Evermore and evermore! Amen.

Adeste fideles.

CHRISTMAS TO EPIPHANY.

LUKE II., 15. * * "The shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass."

I.

ADESTE fideles, læti triumphantes,
Venite, venite in Bethlehem;
Natum videte Regem Angelorum:
Venite adoremus, venite adoremus,
Venite adoremus Dominum.

II.

Deum de Deo, lumen de lumine,
Gestant puellæ viscera:
Deum verum, genitum non factum:
Venite adoremus, venite adoremus,
Venite adoremus Dominum.

III.

Cantet nunc Io chorus Angelorum,
Cantet nunc aula cœlestium:
Gloria in excelsis Deo:
Venite adoremus, venite adoremus,
Venite adoremus Dominum.

IV.

Ergo qui natus die hodiernâ,
Jesu, tibi sit gloria:
Patris æterni Verbum caro factum:
Venite adoremus, venite adoremus,
Venite adoremus Dominum.

I.

Be present, ye faithful, joyful and triumphant,
And hasten, and hasten, to Bethlehem;
See in a manger the Monarch of Angels:
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship the Lord with them!

II.

God of God eternal, Light from Light proceeding,
He deigns in the Virgin's womb to lie:
Very God of Very God, begotten, not created;
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship the Lord on high!

III.

Sing Alleluia, Chorus of the Angels,
Sing, Heavenly Citizens, joyously:
Glory to God in the highest, glory;—
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship the Lord on high!

IV.

To Thee, Who wast born on Christmas Day of Mary,
O Jesu, be praise eternally:
Word of th' Eternal Father, now Incarnate:
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship,
O come and let us worship the Lord on high!

Hymn 68 (or 85)

Agnoscat omne sæculum.

CHRISTMAS HYMN
for PRIME.

HAB. ii., 14.—“The earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.”

I.

AGNOSCAT omne sæculum
Venisse vitæ præmium;
Post hostis asperi jugum
Apparuit redemptio.

II.

Esaias quæ præcinit
Completa sunt in Virgine;
Annunciavit Angelus;
Sanctus replevit Spiritus.

III.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui natus es de Virgine,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

LET every age and nation own
That life's reward at length is shewn;
The Foe's hard yoke is cast away,
Redemption hath appeared to-day.

II.

Isaiah's strains fulfilment meet,
And in the Virgin are complete:
The Angel's tongue hath called her blest;
The Holy Ghost hath filled her breast.

III.

All honour, land, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee!
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

I.

THE Virgin Mary hath conceived
By that true word which she believed;
And Whom the wide world cannot hoid,
A spotless maiden's arms enfold.

II.

Now buds the flower of Jesse's root;
Now Aaron's rod puts out its fruit;
She sees her offspring rise to view,
The Mother, yet the Virgin too.

III.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee!
All glory, as is ever meet,

Adam vetus quod polluit.

CHRISTMAS HYMN
for the AFTERNOON.

COR. xv., 45.— * * * “The first man Adam was made a living soul ; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.”

I.

ADAM vetus quod polluit
Adam novus hoc abluit ;
Tumens quod ille dejecit
Humillimus hic erigit.

II.

Jam nata lux est et salus ;
Fugata nox, et victa mors ;

In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

Now the Old Adam's sinful stain
Doth the New Adam cleanse again ;
And what the first by pride o'erthrew
This lowliest One uprears anew.

II.

Now light is come, Salvation shewn,
And night repelled, and Death o'erthrown ;
Approach, ye nations ! own this morn,
That God of Mary hath been born.

III.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee !

Jesu dulcis memoria.

Hymn for the EPIPHANY,
(and for Aug. 7th, De nomine Jesu.)

COL. iii., 17.—“Whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus.”

I.

Jesu dulcis memoria,
Dans vera cordis gaudia :
Sed super mel et omnia
Ejus dulcis præsentia.

II.

Nil canitur sùavius,
Nil auditur jucundius,
Nil cogitatur dulcius,
Quam Jesus Dei Filius.

III.

Jesu spes pœnitentibus,
Quam pius es petentibus !
Quam bonus te quærentibus !
Sed quid invenientibus ?

IV.

Jesu, dulcedo cordium,
Fons veri, lumen mentium,
Excedens omne gaudium
Et omne desiderium.

V.

Nec lingua potest dicere,
Nec litera exprimere :
Expertus novit credere
Quid sit Jesum diligere.

VI.

Jesum quæram in lectulo,
Clauso cordis cubiculo :
Privatim et in populo
Quæram amore sedulo.

VII.

Cum Mariâ diluculo
Jesum quæram in tumulto ;
Cordis clamore querulo
Mente quæram, non oculo.

VIII.

Jesus ad patrem rediit,
Cœleste regnum subiit :
Cor meum a me transiit,
Post Jesum simul abiit.

IX.

Jesum sequamur laudibus,
Votis, hymnis, et precibus,
Ut nos donet cœlestibus
Secum perfrui sedibus. Amen.

I.

Jesu !—The very thought is sweet !
In that dear Name all heart-joys meet :
But sweeter than the honey far
The glimpses of His Presence are.

II.

No word is sung more sweet than this :
No name is heard more full of bliss :
No thought brings sweeter comfort nigh
Than Jesus, Son of God most high.

III.

Jesu ! the hope of souls forlorn !
How good to them for sin that mourn !
To them that seek Thee, oh how kind !
But what art Thou to them that find ?

IV.

Jesu, Thou sweetness, pure and blest,
Truth's Fountain, Light of souls distress'd,
Surpassing all that heart requires,
Exceeding all that soul desires !

V.

No tongue of mortal can express,
No letters write its blessedness :
Alone who hath thee in his heart
Knows, love of Jesus ! what thou art.

VI.

I seek for Jesus in repose,
When round my heart its chambers close :
Abroad, and when I shut the door,
I long for Jesus evermore.

VII.

With Mary, in the morning gloom,
I seek for Jesus at the Tomb ;
For Him, with Love's most earnest cry,
I seek with heart, and not with eye.

VIII.

Jesus, to God the Father gone,
Is seated on the Heavenly Throne :
My heart hath also passed from me,
That where He is, there it may be.

IX.

We follow Jesus now, and raise
The voice of prayer, the hymn of praise,
That He at last may make us meet
With Him to gain the Heavenly Seat. Amen.

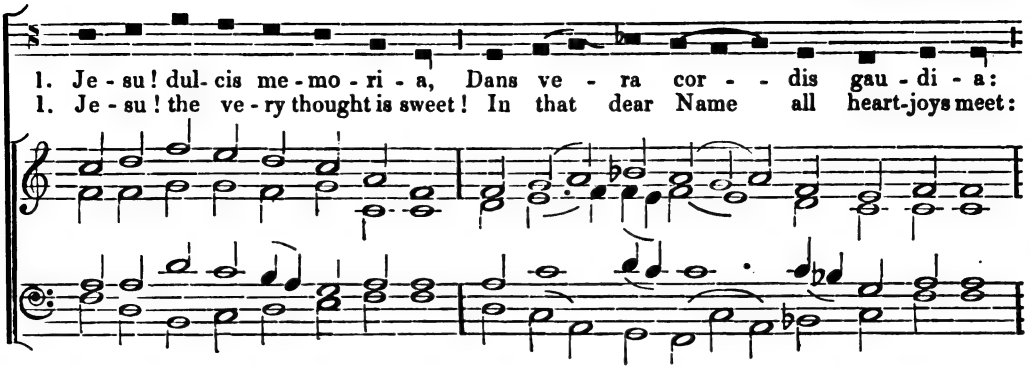

Jesu dulcis memoria.

Hymn 73 (or 46)

Ⓐ Amor quam extaticus.

Hymn for Sundays after EPIPHANY.

EPH. iii., 19.—* * * * "The love of Christ, which passeth knowledge."

I.

O AMOR quam extaticus,
Quam effluens, quam nimius,
Qui Deum Dei Filium
Unum fecit mortalium !

II.

Non invisit nos angelo,
Seu supremo seu infimo ;
Carnis assumens pallium
Venit ad nos per se ipsum.

III.

Non solum se ostendere
Voluit, sed convivere,
Deus-Homo hominibus
Hic annis triginta tribus.

IV.

Nobis baptisma suscipit,
Nobis jejunans esurit,
Nobis et Satan hunc tentat,
Nobis tentantem superat.

V.

Nobis orat et prædicat,
Pro nobis cuncta facitat,
Verbis signis et actibus
Nos quærens, non se, penitus.

VI.

Pro nobis comprehenditur,
Flagellatur, conspuitur,
Crucis perfert patibulum,
Pro nobis tradit spiritum.

VII.

Nobis surgit a mortuis,
Nobis se transfert superis,
Nobis suum dat Spiritum
In robur, in latium.

VIII.

Gloria tibi, Domine,
Qui natus es de Virgine,
Cum Patre et sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

O LOVE, how deep, how broad, how high,
How passing thought and fantasy,
That God, the Son of God, should take
Our mortal form for mortals' sake !

II.

He sent no Angel to our race,
Of higher or of lower place,
But wore the robe of human frame,
And He Himself to this world came.

III.

Nor willed He only to appear ;
His pleasure was to tarry here ;
And God and Man with man would be
The space of thirty years and three.

IV.

For us baptized, for us He bore
His holy fast, and hunger'd sore,
For us temptations sharp He knew,
For us the Tempter overthrew.

V.

For us He preaches and He prays,
Would do all things, would try all ways ;
By words, and signs, and actions, thus
Still seeking not Himself, but us.

VI.

For us to wicked men betrayed,
Scourged, mocked, in Crown of Thorns arrayed ;
For us He bore the Cross's death,
For us at length gave up His breath.

VII.

For us He rose from death again,
For us He went on high to reign,
For us He sent His Spirit here
To guide, to strengthen, and to cheer.

VIII.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee !
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

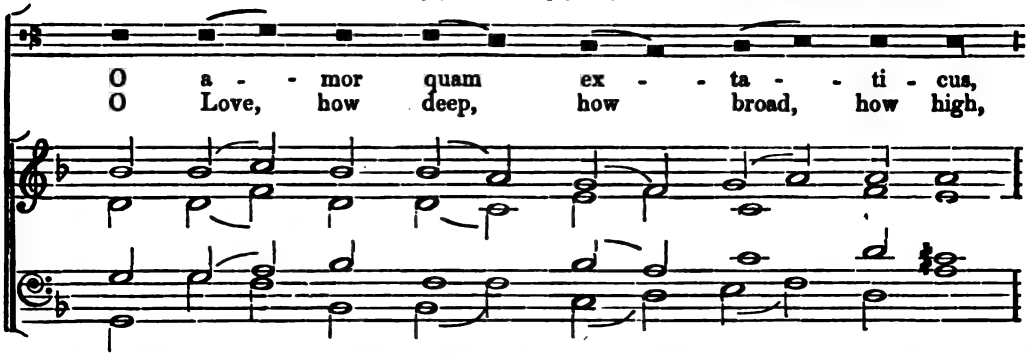

Amor quam extaticus.

Hymn 74 (or 46)

Alleluia, dulce carmen.

EVENING HYMN for SEPTUAGESIMA.

REV. XIX., 1.—* * * “Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God.”

I.

ALLELUIA, dulce carmen,
Vox perennis gaudii,
Alleluia vox s̄avis
Est choris cœlestibus,
Quam canunt Dei manentes
In domo per sæcula.

II.

Alleluia læta mater
Concinis Hierusalem;
Alleluia vox tuorum
Civium gaudentium;
Exules nos flere cogunt
Babylonis flumina.

III.

Alleluia non meremur
Nunc perenne psallere:
Alleluia nos reatus
Cogit intermittere:
Tempus instat, quo peracta
Lugeamus crimina.

IV.

Unde laudando precamur
Te, beata Trinitas,
Ut tuum nobis videre
Pascha des in æthere,
Quo tibi læti canamus
Alleluia dulciter. Amen.

I.

ALLELUIA, song of sweetness,
Voice of joy, eternal lay;
Alleluia is the anthem
Of the Choirs in Heavenly day,
Which the Angels sing, abiding
In the House of God alway.

II.

Alleluia thou resoundest,
Salem, Mother ever blest;
Alleluias without ending
Fit yon place of gladsome rest:
Exiles we, by Babel's waters
Sit in bondage and distress'd.

III.

Alleluia we deserve not
Here to chant for evermore:
Alleluia our transgressions
Make us for awhile give o'er,
For the holy time is coming
Bidding us our sins deplore.

IV.

Trinity of endless glory,
Hear Thy people as they cry;
Grant us all to keep Thy Easter
In our Home beyond the sky,
There to Thee our Alleluia
Singing everlastingly. Amen.

Alleluia, dulce carmen.

Melody from LA PHILLÉ.
Harmonised by the Rev. S. S. GREATHED.

Al - le - lu - ia, dul - ce carmen, Vox perennis gau - di - i, Al - le - lu - ia vox su - a - vis
Al - le - lu - ia, song of sweetness, Voice of joy, e - ter - nal lay ; Al - le - lu - ia is the an - them

The first system of musical notation for 'Alleluia, dulce carmen'. It features a vocal line with a treble clef and a piano accompaniment with a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has one sharp (F#). The melody is written in a simple, hymn-like style with many eighth and sixteenth notes.

After the last verse.

Est cho - ris cœ - les - ti - bus, Quam ca - nunt De - i ma - nen - tes In do - mo per sæ - cu - la. A - men.
Of the Choirs in Heav'nly day, Which the An - gels sing, a - bid - ing In the House of God alway. A - men.

The second system of musical notation, labeled 'After the last verse.' It continues the vocal and piano parts from the first system. The lyrics are: 'Est cho - ris cœ - les - ti - bus, Quam ca - nunt De - i ma - nen - tes In do - mo per sæ - cu - la. A - men. Of the Choirs in Heav'nly day, Which the An - gels sing, a - bid - ing In the House of God alway. A - men.'

Another Melody.
From the MACHLIN VESPERAL.

Al - le - lu - ia dul - ce carmen, Vox pe - ren - nis gaudi - i, Al - le - lu - ia vox . . su - a - vis
Al - le - lu - ia, song of sweetness, Voice of joy, e - ter - nal lay ; Al - le - lu - ia is . . the an - them

The first system of musical notation for the second melody of 'Alleluia, dulce carmen'. It features a vocal line with a treble clef and a piano accompaniment with a grand staff. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The melody is more ornate than the first, with many sixteenth and thirty-second notes.

After the last verse.

Est cho - ris cœ - les - ti - bus, Quam canunt De - i manentes In do - mo . . . per sæ - cu - la. A - men.
Of the Choirs in Heav'nly day, Which the Angels sing, a - bidding In the House . . . of God alway. A - men.

Hymn 75 (or 47)

Ex more docti mystico.

EVENING HYMN,
1st and 2nd weeks in LENT.

JOEL ii., 12.—“Therefore also now, saith the Lord, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning.”

I.

Ex more docti mystico
Servemus hoc jejunium,
Deno dierum circulo
Ducto quater notissimo.

II.

Lex et prophetæ prinitus
Hoc prætulērunt : postmodum
Christus sacravit omnium
Rex atque factor temporum.

III.

Utamur ergo parcius
Verbis, cibis et potibus,
Somno, jocis, et arcitius
Perstemus in custodia.

IV.

Dicamus omnes cernui,
Clamemus atque singuli,
Ploremus ante judicem,
Flectamus iram vindicem.

V.

Nostris malis offendimus
Tuam, Deus, clementiam ;
Effunde nobis desuper,
Remissor, indulgentiam.

VI.

Memento quod sumus tui,
Licet caduci, plasmatis ;
Ne des honorem nominis
Tui, precamur, alteri.

VII.

Laxa malum quod fecimus,
Auge bonum quod poscimus,
Placere quod tandem Tibi
Possimus hic et perpetim.

VIII.

Præsta, Beata Trinitas,
Concede, simplex Unitas,
Ut fructuosa sint tuis
Jejuniorum munera. Amen.

I.

THE fast, as taught by holy lore,
We keep in solemn course once more :
The fast to all men known, and bound
In forty days of yearly round.

II.

The law and seers that were of old
In divers ways this Lent foretold,
Which Christ, all seasons' king and guide,
In after ages sanctified.

III.

More sparing therefore let us make
The words we speak, the food we take,
Our sleep and mirth,—and closer barred
Be every sense in holy guard.

IV.

In prayer together let us fall,
And cry for mercy, one and all,
And weep before the Judge's feet,
And His avenging wrath entreat.

V.

Thy grace have we offended sore
By sins, O God, which we deplore ;
But pour upon us from on high,
O pardoning One, Thy clemency !

VI.

Remember Thou, though frail we be,
That yet Thine handiwork are we ;
Nor let the honour of Thy Name
Be by another put to shame.

VII.

Forgive the sin that we have wrought ;
Increase the good that we have sought ;
That we at length, our wanderings o'er,
May please Thee here and evermore.

VIII.

Grant, O Thou Blessed Trinity,
Grant, O Essential Unity,
That this our fast of forty days
May work our profit and Thy praise! Amen.

Gloria, laus et honor.

HYMN 76
PALM SUNDAY.

PSALM viii., 2.—“ Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength.”

I.

GLORIA, laus et honor tibi sit Rex Christe
Redemptor,
Cui puerile decus prompsit Hosanna pium.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

II.

Israel tu rex, Davidis et inclyta proles,
Nomine qui in Domini, rex benedicte, venis.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

III.

Cœtus in excelsis te laudat cœlicus omnis :
Et mortalis homo, cuncta creata simul.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

IV.

Plebs Hebræa tibi cum palmis obvia venit ;
Cum prece, voto, hymnis, adsumus ecce tibi.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

V.

Hi tibi passuro solvebant munia laudis ;
Nos tibi regnanti pangimus ecce melos.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

VI.

Hi placuere tibi, placeat devotio nostra,
Rex bone, rex clemens, cui bona cuncta placent.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

VII.

Fecerat Hebræos hos gloria sanguinis almi :
Nos facit Hebræos transitus ecce pius.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

VIII.

Sis pius ascensor tu, nos quoque simus asellus ;
Tecum nos capiat urbs veneranda Dei.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

IX.

Vestis apostolicæ rutilo fulgore tegamur,
Te bene docta ut eâ nostra caterva vehat.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

X.

Tegmine sic animæ sternamus corpora nostra,
Quo per nos semper sit via tuta tibi.
Gloria, laus et honor, &c.

XI.

Sit pia pro palmæ nobis victoria ramis
Ut tibi victrici sorte canamus ita :
Gloria, laus et honor tibi sit Rex Christe
Redemptor,
Cui puerile decus prompsit Hosanna pium.

I.

GLORY, and laud, and honour,
To Thee, Redeemer King !
To Whom the lips of children
Made sweet Hosannas ring.
Glory, and laud, and honour, &c.

II.

Thou art the King of Israel,
Thou, David's Royal Son,
Who in the Lord's Name comest,
The King and Blessed One.
Glory, and laud, and honour, &c.

III.

The Company of Angels
Are praising Thee on high,
And mortal men, and all things
Created, make reply.
Glory, and laud, and honour, &c.

IV.

The people of the Hebrews
With Palms before Thee went ;
Our praise and prayer and anthems
Before Thee we present.
Glory, and laud, and honour, &c.

V.

Thou wast hast'ning to Thy Passion,
When they raised their hymns of praise :
Thou art reigning in Thy glory,
When our melody we raise.
Glory, and laud, and honour, &c.

VI.

Thou didst accept their praises,
Accept the prayers we bring,
Who in all good delightest,
Thou good and gracious King !
Glory, and laud, and honour, &c.

XI.

Receive, instead of Palm-boughs,
Our victory o'er the foe,
That in the Conqueror's triumph
This strain may ever flow :
Glory, and laud, and honour,
To Thee, Redeemer King !
To whom the lips of children
Made sweet Hosannas ring.

Gloria, laus et honor.

Hymn 77 (or 55)

Verbum supernum prodiens.

HYMN for
MAUNDY THURSDAY.

S. JOHN vi., 35.—“ Jesus said, I am the bread of life.”

I.

VERBUM supernum prodiens,
Nec patris linquens dexteram,
Ad opus suum exiens
Venit ad vitæ vesperam.

II.

In mortem a discipulo
Suis tradendus æmulis,
Prius in vitæ ferculo
Se tradidit discipulis.

III.

Quibus sub binâ specie
Carnem dedit et sanguinem,
Ut duplicis substantiæ
Totum cibaret hominem.

IV.

Se nascens dedit socium,
Convalescens in edulium,
Se moriens in pretium,
Se regnans dat in præmium.

V.

O Salutaris Hostia
Quæ celi pandis ostium,
Bella premunt hostillia,
Da robur, fer auxilium.

VI.

Uni Trinoque Domino
Sit sempiterna gloria,
Qui vitam sine termino
Nobis donet in Patriâ. Amen

I.

THE Word of God proceeding forth,
Yet leaving not the Father's side,
And going to his work on earth,
Had reached at length Life's eventide.

II.

By a Disciple to be given
To rivals, for His Blood athirst ;
Himself, the Very Bread of Heaven,
He gave to His Disciples first.

III.

He gave Himself in either kind,
His precious Flesh, His precious Blood :
Of flesh and blood is man combin'd,
And He of man would be the food.

IV.

In Birth, man's fellow man was He ;
His Meat, while sitting at the board
He died, his Ransomer to be ;
He reigns to be his great Reward.

V.

O saving Victim, slain to bless,
Who op'st the Heavenly Gate to all :
The attacks of many a foe oppress ;
Give strength in strife, and help in fall.

VI.

To God, the Three in One, ascend
All thanks and praise for evermore ;
He grant the Life that shall not end
Upon the Heav'nly Country's shore. Amen,

Hymn 79 (or 62)

Salve, festa dies.

EASTER-DAY,
and seven days after.

1 COR. v., 7, 8.—“Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: Therefore let us keep the feast.”

2 KINGS, vii., 9.—“This day is a day of good tidings.”

I.

SALVE festa dies, toto venerabilis ævo,
Qua Deus infernum vicit et astra tenet.
Salve, &c.

I.

HAIL! Festal Day! for evermore ador'd,
Wherein God conquer'd Hell, and upward soar'd!
(Hail! Festal Day! for evermore ador'd.)

II.

Ecce renascentis testatur gratia mundi
Omnia cum Domino dona rediisse suo.
Quâ Deus, &c.

II.

See the world's beauty, budding forth anew,
Shews with the Lord His gifts returning too!
(Wherein God conquer'd Hell, and upward soar'd.)

III.

Tempora florigero rutilant distincta sereno,
Et majore poli lumine porta patet.
Salve, &c.

III.

The earth with flow'rs is deck'd,—the sky serene;
The Heav'nly Portals glow with brighter sheen.
(Hail! Festal Day! for evermore ador'd.)

IV.

Jamque triumphanti post tristia tartara Christo
Undique fronde nemus, gramina flore favent.
Quâ Deus, &c.

IV.

The greenwood-leaves, the flowering meadows tell
Of Christ, triumphant over gloomy Hell.
(Wherein God conquer'd Hell, and upward soar'd.)

V.

Legibus inferni oppressis super astra meantem
Laudant rite Deum lux, polus, astra, fretum.
Salve, &c.

V.

The Power of Satan crush'd, He seeks the skies;
From earth, light, stars, and ocean, anthems rise!
(Hail! Festal Day! for evermore ador'd.)

VI.

Qui crucifixus erat Deus ecce per omnia regnat,
Dantque creatori cuncta creata preces.
Quâ Deus, &c.

VI.

The Crucified reigns God for evermore;
Their Maker all created things adore.
(Wherein God conquer'd Hell, and upward soar'd.)

VII.

Hymn 80 (or 63)

Mane prima Sabbati.

EASTER MORNING (and July 22).

S. MATT. xxviii., 1.—“In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.”

I.

MANE prima Sabbati
Surgens Dei filius
Nostra spes et gloria,
Victo rege sceleris
Rediit ab inferis
Cum summâ victoriâ.

II.

Resurgentis itaque
Maria Magdalena
Facta est prænuntia:
Ferens Christi fratribus
Ejus morte tristibus
Expectata gaudia.

III.

O beati oculi,
Quibus regem sæculi
Morte jam depositâ
Primum est intuita!

IV.

Hæc est illa femina,
Cujus cuncta crimina
Ad Christi vestigia
Ejus lavit gratia.

V.

Quæ dum plorat et mens orat,
Facto clamat quod cor amat
Jesum super omnia.

VI.

Non ignorat, quem adorat,
Quid precetur, jam deletur,
Quod mens timet conscia.

VII.

Illâ mundi imperatrix,
Istâ beata peccatrix
Lætitiæ primordia
Fuderunt in Ecclesiâ.

VIII.

Illâ enim fuit porta,
Per quam salus est exorta:
Hæc Resurgentis nuntia
Mundum replet lætitiâ.

I.

ON the morn of Easter day,
From the tomb wherein He lay,
Christ our Hope rose gloriously;
Trampling down the infernal king,
Hell and Satan vanquishing,
He returned victoriously.

II.

When the risen Lord was seen,
Blessed Mary Magdalene
Was the herald whom He chose:
On the glorious errand sent,
To His Brethren straight she went,
Bearing joy to end their woes.

III.

O thrice blessed eyes, that first,
When the chains of death were burst,
Sin destroyed and Satan quelled,
Christ, the King of all, beheld!

IV.

This was she who was of old
Lost in sin so manifold,
But, at Jesu's feet, obtained
Grace to pardon all that stained.

V.

Lips deploring, heart adoring,
Are the proving of her loving
Jesus more than all the rest;

VI.

Whom she worshipped fully knowing,
She received from His bestowing
Pardon for her troubled breast.

VII.

Marys twain, with news of gladness,
Freed the Church of God from sadness;
One was the Virgin Mother, one
The Saint whom sin had once undone.

VIII.

One the gate, whereby salvation
Entered in for every nation;
And one the herald, sent to tell
That Christ had risen, and vanquished hell.

I.

ALLELUIA ! Alleluia ! Alleluia !
O filii et filiae,
Rex coelestis, Rex gloriae,
Morte surrexit hodie.
Alleluia.

II.

Et mane prima Sabbati
Ad ostium monumenti
Accesserunt discipuli.
Alleluia.

III.

In albis sedens Angelus
Prædixit mulieribus,
"In Galilæa est Dominus."
Alleluia.

IV.

Discipulis astantibus
In medio stetit Christus,
Dicens, "Pax vobis omnibus."
Alleluia.

V.

Ut intellexit Didymus,
Quia surrexerat Jesus,
Remansit fere dubius.
Alleluia.

VI.

"Vide Thoma, vide latus,
Vide pedes, vide manus :
Noli esse incredulus."
Alleluia.

VII.

Quando Thomas vidit Christum,
Pedes, manus, latus suum,
Dixit, "Tu es Deus meus."
Alleluia.

VIII.

Beati qui non viderunt,
Et firmiter crediderunt :
Vitam æternam habebunt.
Alleluia.

IX.

In hoc festo sanctissimo
Sit laus et jubilatio :
Benedicamus Domino.
Alleluia.

X.

Ex quibus nos humillimas
Devotas atque debitas
Deo dicamus gratias.
Alleluia.

I.

ALLELUIA ! Alleluia ! Alleluia !
Ye sons and daughters of the King
Whom Heavenly hosts in glory sing,
To-day the grave hath lost its sting.
Alleluia.

II.

On that first morning of the week,
Before the day began to break,
The Marys went their Lord to seek.
Alleluia.

III.

An Angel bade their sorrow flee :
For thus he spake unto the three :
'Your Lord is gone to Galilee.'
Alleluia.

IV.

That night th' Apostles met in fear :
Amidst them came their Lord most dear,
And said : 'Peace be unto you here !'
Alleluia.

V.

When Thomas afterwards had heard
That Jesus had fulfilled his word,
He doubted if it were the Lord.
Alleluia.

VI.

'Thomas, behold My Side,' saith He,
'My Hands, My Feet, My Body see ;
'And doubt not, but believe in Me.'
Alleluia.

VII.

No longer Thomas then denied ;
He saw the Feet, the Hands, the Side ;
'Thou art my Lord and God,' he cried.
Alleluia.

VIII.

Blessed are they that have not seen,
And yet whose faith hath constant been :
In Life Eternal they shall reign.
Alleluia.

IX.

On this most holy Day of days,
To God your hearts and voices raise,
In laud, and jubilee, and praise.
Alleluia.

X.

And we with Holy Church unite,
As evermore is just and right,
In glory to the King of Light.

Jam Christus astra ascenderat.

EVENING HYMN for WHITSUN-DAY, and the following week.

S. LUKE xxiv., 49.—"Behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you."

I.

VI.

Sit laus Patri cum Filio,
Sancto simul Paraclito,
Nobisque mittat Filius
Charisma Sancti Spiritus. Amen.

I.

Now Christ, ascending whence He came,
Had mounted o'er the starry frame :
The Holy Ghost on man to pour,
As God the Father's promise bore.

II.

The solemn time was drawing nigh,
Replete with heavenly mystery,
On seven days' sevenfold circles borne,
That first and blessed Whitsun-morn.

III.

When the third hour shone all around,
There came a rushing mighty sound,
And told the Apostles, while in prayer,
That, as 'twas promised, God was there.

IV.

From forth the Father's light it came,
That beautiful and kindly flame :
To fill, with fervour of His word,
The spirits faithful to their Lord.

V.

Thou once in every holy breast
Didst bid indwelling grace to rest :
This day our sins, we pray, release,
And in our time, O Lord, give peace.

VI.

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, praise be done ;
And Christ the Lord upon us pour
The Spirit's gift for evermore. Amen.

Annue Christe sæculorum Domine.

EVENING HYMN for the FESTIVALS OF APOSTLES.

ROM. viii., 28. * * * "We know that all things work together for good to them that love God."

I.

ANNUE, Christe, sæculorum Domine,
Nobis per hujus tibi cara merita,
Ut quæ te coram graviter deliquimus,
Hujus salventur gloriosis precibus.

II.

Salva, Redemptor, plasma tuum nobile,
Signatum sancto vultus tui lumine,
Nec lacerari sinas fraude dæmonum
Propter quos mortis exsolvistis pretium.

III.

Dole captivos esse tuos servulos,
Absolve reos, compeditos erige,
Et quos cruore redemisti proprio,
Rex bone, tecum fac gaudere perpetim.

IV.

Sit tibi, Jesu, benedictæ Domine,
Gloria, virtus, honor, et imperium :
Una cum Patre Sanctoque Paraclito,
Cum quibus regnas Deus ante sæcula. Amen.

I.

O CHRIST, Thou Lord of worlds !
Thine ear to hear us bow,
On this the festival
Of Thine Apostle now :
That all the weary load
Of many a foul offence
May, as we sing his praise,
Be lost in penitence.

II.

Redeemer ! save Thy work,
Thy noble work of grace,
Sealed with the holy light
That beareth from Thy face :
Nor suffer them to fall
To Satan's wiles a prey,
For whom Thou didst on earth
Death's costly ransom pay.

III.

Pity Thy flock, enthralled
By sin's captivity :
Forgive each guilty soul,
And set the bondmen free :
And those Thou hast redeemed
With Thine own precious blood,
Grant to rejoice with Thee,
Thou Monarch kind and good.

IV.

O Jesu, Saviour blest,
And gracious Lord, to Thee,
All glory, virtue, power,
And laud and empire be :
The Father with like praise
And Spirit we adore :
With whom Thou reignest God,
For ages evermore. Amen.

Æterna Christi munera.

EVENING HYMN for the
FESTIVALS OF MARTYRS.

1 S. PET. iii., 14.—“ If ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye.”

I.

ÆTERNA Christi munera
Et Martyrum victorias,
Laudes canentes debitas
Lætis canamus mentibus.

II.

Terrore victo sæculi,
Spretisque pœnis corporis,
Mortis sacro compendio
Vitam beatam possident.

III.

Traduntur igni Martyres,
Et bestiarum dentibus :
Armata sævit unguis
Tortoris insani manus.

IV.

Nudata pendent viscera,—
Sanguis sacratus funditur,
Sed permanent immobiles
Vitæ perennis gratiâ.

V.

Te nunc, Redemptor, quæsumus
Ut Martyrum consortes
Jungas precantes servulos
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

THE eternal gifts of Christ the King.
The Martyrs' glorious deeds, we sing :
And while due hymns of praise we pay,
Our thankful hearts cast grief away.

II.

The terrors of the world despised.
The body's torments lightly prized,
By one brief space of death and pain
Life everlasting they obtain.

III.

To flames the Martyr Saints are hail'd :
By teeth of savage beasts assail'd :
Against them, arm'd with ruthless brand
And hooks of steel, the torturers stand.

IV.

The mangled frame is tortur'd sore ;
The holy life-drops freshly pour :
They stand unmov'd amidst the strife,
By grace of everlasting life.

V.

Redeemer, hear us of Thy love,
That, with the Martyr Host above,
Hereafter, of Thine endless grace,
Thy servants also may have place. Amen.

☪ beata beatorum.

MORNING HYMN for the
FESTIVALS OF MARTYRS.

PSALM xvi., §.—“All my delight is upon the Saints, that are in the earth : and upon such as excel in virtue.”

I.

O BEATA beatorum
Martyrum solemnia !
O devote recolenda
Victorum certamina !

II.

Digni dignis fulgent signis,
Et florent virtutibus ;
Illos semper condecenter
Veneremur laudibus.

III.

Fide, voto, corde toto,
Adhæserunt Domino ;
Et invicti sunt addicti
Atroci martyrio.

IV.

Carcerati, trucidati,
Tormentorum genera,
Igne læsi, ferro cæsi,
Pertulerunt plurima.

V.

Dum sic torti cedunt morti,
Carnis per interitum,
Ut electi sunt adepti
Beatorum præmium.

VI.

Per contemptum mundanorum,
Et per bella fortia,
Meruerunt Angelorum
Victores consortia.

VII.

Ergo facti cohæredes
Christo in cœlestibus,
Apud ipsum vota nostra
Promovete precibus :

VIII.

Ut post finem hujus vitæ,
Et post transitoria,
In perenni mereamur
Exultare gloriâ !

I.

BLESSED Feasts of Blessed Martyrs !
Saintly days of saintly men !
With affection's recollections
Greet we your return again.

II.

Mighty deeds they wrought, and wonders,
While a frame of flesh they bore :
We with meekest praise, and sweetest,
Honour them for evermore.

III.

Faith unblenching, Hope unquenching,
Well-lov'd Lord, and single heart,—
Thus they glorious and victorious
Bore the Martyr's happy part.

IV.

Blood in slaughter pour'd like water,
Torments long and heavy chain,
Flame, and axe, and laceration,
They endur'd, and conquer'd pain.

V.

While they passed through divers tortures,
Till they sank by death oppressed,
Earth's rejected were elected
To have portion with the Blest.

VI.

By contempt of worldly pleasures,
And by mighty battles done,
They have reached the Land of Angels,
And with them are knit in one.

VII.

They are made co-heirs of glory,
And they sit with Christ on high :
Oh that, as He heard their weeping,
He may also hear our cry ;

VIII.

Till, this weary life completed,
And its many labours past,
He shall grant us to be seated
In our Father's Home at last !

Jesu, corona Virginum.

THE FESTIVALS OF VIRGINS.

2 COR. x., 17.—“He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.”

I.

Jesu Corona Virginum,
Quem mater illa concipit
Quæ sola virgo parturit,
Hæc vota clemens accipe.

II.

Qui pascis inter lilia
Septus choreis Virginum,
Sponsas decorans gloriâ
Sponsique reddens præmia.

III.

Nescire prorsus omnia
Corruptionis vulnera.

V.

Deo Patri sit gloria
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

Jesu, the Virgins' Crown, do Thou
Accept us, as in prayer we bow ;
Born of that Virgin, whom alone
The Mother and the Maid we own.

II.

Amongst the lilies Thou dost feed,
With Virgin choirs accompanied ;
With glory decked, the spotless brides
Whose bridal gifts Thy love provides.

III.

They, wheresoe'er Thy footsteps bend,
With hymns and praises still attend ;
In blessed troops they follow Thee,
With dance, and song, and melody.

IV.

We pray Thee therefore to bestow
Upon our senses here below
Thy grace, that so we may endure
From taint of all corruption pure.

V.

All laud to God the Father be :
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee :
All laud, as is for ever meet,

Paul, doctor egregie.

CONVERSION OF S. PAUL.

1 TIM. II., 7. * * * "A teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity."

I.

PAUL, doctor egregie,
Tuba clangens ecclesiae,
Nubes volans ac tonitrum
Per amplum mundi circulum.

II.

O magnum Pauli meritum !
Cælum conscendit tertium,
Audit verba mysterii,
Quæ nullis audet eloqui.

III.

Dum verbi spargit semina
Seges surgit uberrima ;
Sic cœli replent horreum
Bonorum fruges operum.

IV.

Micantis more lampadis
Perfundit orbem radiis ;
Fugat errorum tenebras
Ut sola regnet veritas.

V.

Sit benedictus Genitor,
Ejusque Unigenitus,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

LET Gentiles raise the thankful lay
Upon their great Apostle's Day :
Whose doctrine, like the thunder, sounds
To the wide world's remotest bounds.

II.

O bliss of Paul, beyond all thought !
To Paradise, yet living, caught,
He hears the heav'nly myteries there,
Which mortal tongue can not declare.

III.

The Word's blest seed around he flings :
And straight a mighty harvest springs :
And fruits of holy deeds supply
God's everlasting granary.

IV.

The lamp his holy lore displays
Hath filled the world with glorious rays :
And doubt and error are o'erthrown,
That truth may reign, and reign alone.

V.

Long as unending ages run,
To God the Father laud be done :
To God the Son our equal praise,
And God the Holy Ghost, we raise. Amen.

MALACHI iii., 1.—“The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the Messenger of the Covenant, whom ye delight in.”

I.

QUEM terra, pontus, æthera,
Colunt, adorant, prædicant,
Trinam regentem machinam,
Clastrum Mariæ bajulat.

Deserviunt per tempora,
Perfusâ cœli gratiâ
Gestant puellæ viscera.

III.

Beata Mater munere,
Cujus supernus Artifex
Mundum pugillo continens
Ventris sub arcâ clausus est.

IV.

Beata cœli nuntio,
Fœcunda Sancto Spiritu,
Desideratus gentibus
Cujus per alvum fusus est.

V.

Gloria Tibi, Domine,
Qui natus es de Virgine,
Cum Patre et Sancto Spiritu,
In sempiterna sæcula. Amen.

I.

THE God, Whom earth, and sea, and sky,
Adore, and laud, and magnify ;
Who o'er their threefold fabric reigns,
The Virgin's spotless womb contains.

II.

The God, Whose will by moon and sun
And all things in due course is done,
Is borne upon a Maiden's breast,
By fullest heavenly grace possess'd.

III.

How blest that Mother, in whose shrine
The great Artificer Divine,
Whose hand contains the earth and sky,
Vouchsafed, as in His ark, to lie !

IV.

Blest, in the message Gabriel brought ;
Blest, by the work the Spirit wrought ;
From whom the Great Desire of earth
Took human flesh and human birth.

V.

All honour, laud, and glory be,
O Jesu, Virgin-born, to Thee !
All glory, as is ever meet,
To Father and to Paraclete. Amen.

PURIFICATION OF ANNUNCIATION.

ISAIAH xl., 9.—“O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!”

I.

LÆTABUNDUS,
Exultet fidelis chorus :
Alleluia.
Regem Regum
Intactæ profudit thorus :
Res miranda.

II.

Angelus consilii
Natus est de Virgine,
Sol de stellâ;
Sol occasum nesciens,
Stella semper rutilans,
Semper clara.

III.

Sicut sidus radium,
Profert Virgo Filium
Pari formâ.
Neque sidus radio,
Neque Mater Filio
Fit corrupta.

IV.

Cedrus alta Libano
Conformatur hyssopo
Valle nostrâ.
Verbum Ens Altissimi
Corporari passum est
Carne sumptâ.

V.

Esas cecinit,
Synagoga meminit,
Nunquam tamen desinit
Esse cæca.
Si non suis vatibus,
Credat vel gentilibus
Sybillinis versibus
Hæc prædicta.

VI.

Infelix propra :
Crede vel vetera :
Cur damnaberis,
Gens misera ?
Quem docet litera
Natum considera ;
Ipsam genuit puerpera. Amen.

I.

FULL of gladness,
Let our faithful Choir be singing
Alleluia.
Monarchs' Monarch
From unspotted Maiden springing :
Alleluia.

II.

Him the Holy Virgin bore,
Wonderful and Counsellor,
Sun from star had spring :
Sun, that never knoweth night ;
Star, for ever shining bright,
Ever glittering.

III.

As a star a ray most fair,
Thus the Virgin also bare,
Like in form, the child ;
Nor the star by that its ray,
Nor the Virgin any way
By the Birth defiled.

IV.

Now conforms the Cedar tall
To the hyssop of the wall
In our vale of tears :
He, God's Word and Essence, came
To assume our mortal frame,
And with man appears.

V.

Though Isaiah had foreshewn,
Though the Synagogue had known,
Yet the truth she will not own,
Still remaining blind :
If she do her prophets wrong,
If she will not hear their throng,
Still she may, in Gentile song,
Seek the deed, and find.

VI.

Turn Judea, and repent :
Credit thine Old Testament :
Why upon destruction bent,
Miserable race ?
Whom its oracles foretold,
Born to save the world behold ;
Him a Virgin's arms enfold,
Full of truth and grace.

MORNING HYMN
for the ANNUNCIATION.

S. LUKE i., 26, 27.—"And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, To a Virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the Virgin's name was Mary."

I. MITTIT ad Virginem
Non quemvis Angelum :
Sed fortitudinem
Suam, Archangelum ;—
Amator hominibus.

II. Fortem expediat
Pro nobis nuncium,
Naturæ faciat
Ut præjudicium
In partu Virginis.

III. Naturam superet
Natus Rex gloriæ ;
Regnet et imperet
Ut zyma scoris
Tollat de medio.

IV. Superbientium
Terat fastigia ;
Colla sublimium
Calcet vi propriâ
Potens in prælio.

V. Foras ejiciat
Mundanum principem ;
Sponsamque faciat
Secum participem
Patris imperii.

VI. Exi qui mitteris ;
Hæc donâ dissere ;
Revela veteris
Velamen literæ
Virtute nuntii.

VII. Accede,—nuntia,—
Dic Ave cominus ;
Dic Plena Gratia,
Dic Tecum Dominus ;
Et dic, Ne timeas.

VIII. Virgo suscipias
Dei depositum ;
In quo perficias
Castum propositum,
Et votum teneas.

IX. Audit et suscipit
Puella nuncium ;
Credit et concipit,
Et parit Filium ;
Sed Admirabilem ;

X. Conciliarium
Humani generis,
Et Deum fortium
Et Patrem posteris
In pace stabilem.

I. To the Virgin He sends
No inferior Angel ;
But Gabriel He summons,
His Might, His Archangel ;
He, Lover of Men.

II. And mighty must needs be
The Messenger sent,
By whom shall the order
Of Nature be bent,
When a Virgin shall bear.

III. The King's natal glory
Shall Nature o'ersway ;
Let Him reign, let Him conquer,
By purging away
The dross of corruption.

IV. Let Him cast every haughty one
Down from his seat,
In His might on the mighty ones
Setting His feet,—
The Victor in battle.

V. Let Him cast out the Monarch
Whom this world obeys ;
To the Throne of the Father
His Bride let Him raise,
To be sharer with Him.

VI. Go forth on thy message,
These gifts to unfold ;
From the letter of Scripture
The veil shall be rolled,
By the might of thy word.

VII. Draw nigh,—speak the tidings,—
Say Hail! to her now ;
And say, Highly favoured,
And say, Fear not thou,
And, The Lord is with thee.

VIII. Receive, then, O Virgin,
The gift God ordains,
While yet the firm purpose
Unaltered remains,
Of thy chastest resolve.

IX. The word she receiveth,
That lowliest one,
Believeth, conceiveth,
And beareth The Son ;
And His Name shall be called—

X. Wonderful, Counsellor,
Lord God of Hosts ;
The Father Eternal,
The Monarch Who boasts
A Kingdom of peace.

MORNING HYMN
for the ANNUNCIATION.

PSALM XXX., 5.—“His wrath endureth but the twinkling of an eye, and in his pleasure is life: heaviness may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.”

I.

HUMANI generis
Cessent suspiria ;
Beata miseri
Affert hic nuntia
Dies mortalibus.

II.

Unius scelere
Cuncti cecidimus ;
Lapsos erigere
Venit Altissimus
De coeli sedibus.

III.

Delectæ Virgini
Quæ Deum pariat,
Angelus Domini
Salutis nuntiat
Nostræ mysterium.

IV.

Quod sine tempore
De Patre nascitur,
Mortali corpore
Verbum induitur,
Ut salvet hominem.

V.

Corpus hoc offeret
In sacrificium ;
Servos ut liberet,
Totum, in precium,
Effundet sanguinem.

VI.

Errabam devius
Exul a patriâ,
Semitæ nescius
Ad vera gaudia
Per quam regrediar.

VII.

In mea Dominus
Venit exilia,
Visque terminus
Ipse fit, et via ;
’Tutus hâc gradiar.

I.

THE sighs and the sorrows
Of this world may cease ;
This happy day bringeth
Glad tidings of peace
For suffering mortals.

II.

Through one man’s transgression
We all of us fell ;
From heavenly mansions,
To save us from hell,
He came, the Most Highest.

III.

To the one chosen Virgin
Who God was to bear,
The Angel descendeth
The tale to declare,
Salvation’s high mystery.

IV.

The Word of the Father
Eternally born,
Assumeth man’s body,
On this blessed morn,
That He may redeem us.

V.

He shall offer this Body
Our ransom to be ;
His blood He shall pour forth
His servants to free,
And pour every life-drop.

VI.

From my Country an exile
I wandered in vain,
And knew not the pathway
By which to regain
True joy everlasting.

VII.

To the place of my exile
God deigns to descend ;
My way He becometh
Himself, and my end :
I shall walk here in safety.

S. JOHN BAPTIST.

ISAIAH xlix., 1.—“Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The Lord hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.”

I.

PRÆCURSOR altus luminis,
Et præco Verbi nascitur :
Lætare cor fidelium,
Luceemque gaudens accipie.

II.

Sublime cui vocabulum,
Johannes, ipse Gabriel
Imponit, et clarissima
Ipsius acta præcinit.

III.

Necdumque natus jam dedit
De luce testimonium,
Quod Natus admirabili
Complevit ipse in gloria.

IV.

Quo feminarum in filiis
Propheta major nullus est ;
Quin ipse miris actibus
Plusquam prophetâ claruit.

V.

Quid sermo noster amplius
Hujus canat præconia ?
De quo Patris vox Filic
Olim locuta præcinit :

VI.

En mitto, dixit, Angelum
Tuam paret qui semitam,
Vultumque præcurrat tuum,
Solem rubens ut Lucifer.

VII.

Deo Patri sit gloria,
Ejusque soli Filio,
Cum Spiritu Paraclito,
Et nunc et in perpetuum. Amen.

I.

THE great forerunner of the Morn,
The Herald of the Word, is born ;
And faithful hearts shall never fail
With thanks and praise his light to hail.

II.

With heav'nly message Gabriel came,
That John should be that herald's name ;
And with prophetic utterance told
His actions great and manifold.

III.

John, still unborn, yet gave aright
His witness to the coming Light :
And Christ fulfilled it, at His Birth,
Right gloriously o'er all the earth.

IV.

Of women born shall never be
A greater Prophet than was he :
Whose mighty deeds exalt his fame
To greater than a Prophet's name.

V.

But why should mortal accents raise
The hymn of John the Baptist's praise ?
Of whom, or ere his course was run,
Thus spake the Father to the Son :

VI.

Behold My herald, who shall go
Before Thy Face, Thy way to show :
Shall shine, as with the Day-Star's gleam,
Before Thine own eternal beam.

VII.

All laud to God the Father be :
All laud, Eternal Son, to Thee :
All laud, as is for ever meet,
To God the Holy Paraclete. Amen.

HYMN for the TRANSFIGURATION.

PHIL. III., 21.—“ Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto His glorious body.”

I.

CŒLESTIS formam gloriæ
Quam spes quærit ecclesiæ,
In monte Christus indicat
Quo supra solem emicat :

II.

Unus, nobis hanc gloriam
Largire per præsentiam. Amen.

I.

A TYPE of those bright rays on high
For which the Church hopes longingly,
Christ on the holy mountain shows,
Where brighter than the Sun He glows :

II.

Tale for all ages to declare :
For with the three disciples there,
Where Moses and Elias meet,
The Lord holds converse, high and sweet.

III.

The chosen witnesses stand nigh,
Of Grace, The Law, and Prophecy :
And from the cloud the Holy One
Bears record to the Only Son.

IV.

With face more bright than noontide ray,
Christ deigns to manifest to-day
What glory shall be theirs above,
Who joy in God with perfect love.

V.

And faithful hearts are rais'd on high
By this great vision's mystery ;
For which, in yearly course, we raise
The voice of pray'r, and hymn of praise.

VI.

Thou, Father,—Thou, Eternal Son,
Thou, Holy Spirit, Three in One,
To this same glory bring us nigh,
That we may see Thee eye to eye. Amen

Hi sunt præcipui regnorum præsides,
Arcendo dæmones nunquam sunt desides,
Resistunt æmulis ut fortes milites,
Gigantùm genus optimum.

III.

Præsunt hi præliis more juvantium,
Impugnant spiritus sine vecordiâ,
Concurrunt conciti, mens bene conscia
Reportet ut victoriam.

IV.

Quæ vox quæ poterit scriptura texere
Quæ sanctis Angelis dentur in munere!
Ut suos milites possint protegere
Ac rectâ cœlo dirigere.

V.

Te, Summa Deitas, devotè poscimus
Ut culpas singulas et pœnam auferas;
Cum sanctis angelis nostra sit gloria,
Per cuncta semper sæcula. Amen.

I.

THE mighty host on high,
Their joys beyond compare,
Their glories in the sky,
The deeds they bravely dare:
For these the Church to-day
Pours forth her joyous lay,
To Heaven’s great princes praise to pay.

II.

These are the chieftains bright,
Viceroy’s of God’s domain,
Unwearied in their might
The demons to restrain:
To quell th’ infernal foe,
And work their rivals woe,
These heavenly warriors haste below.

III.

Captains of mighty race,
And noble champions, they
The evil spirits chase,
Undaunted in the fray:
They speed, in ranks array’d,
The upright soul to aid,
And crown him victor undismay’d.

IV.

What tongue can here declare,
Fancy or thought descry,
The joys Thou dost prepare
For these thine hosts on high?
Who, for the warfare deck’d,
Their earthly friends protect,
And in right paths to heav’n direct.

V.

To Thee, O Lord most high,
One in Three Persons still,
To pardon us we cry,
And to preserve from ill:
That, after perils sore,
Thy Name we may adore
With holy Angels evermore. Amen.

EVENING HYMN for
ALL SAINTS, or for any particular SAINT.

ROM. x., 10, 11.—“With the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed.”

I.

SUPERNÆ Matris gaudia
Representet Ecclesia;
Dum festa colit annua,
Suspiret ad perpetua.

II.

In hac valle miseræ,
Mater succurrat filiæ:
Hic coelestes excubiæ
Nobiscum stent in acie.

III.

Mundus, caro, dæmonia
Diversa movent prælia;
Incursu tot phantasmatum
Turbatur cordis sabbatum.

IV.

Confusa sunt hic omnia,
Spes, mœror, metus, gaudium:
Vix horâ vel dimidiâ
Fit in cœlo silentium.

V.

Quam felix illa civitas
In quâ jugis solemnitas!
Et quam jucunda Curia
Quæ curæ prorsus nescia!

VI.

Nec languor hic, nec senium,
Nec fraus, nec terror hostium;
Sed una vox lætantium,
Et unus ardor cordium.

VII.

Hi sancti quorum hodie
Celebrantur solemnia,
Jam revelatâ facie
Regem cernunt in gloriâ.

VIII.

Nos ad sanctorum gloriam,
Per ipsorum suffragia,
Post præsentem miseriam
Christi perducatur gratia! Amen.

I.

THE Church on earth, with answering love,
Echoes her Mother's joys above:
These yearly feast-days she may keep,
And yet for endless festals weep.

II.

In this world's valley, dim and wild,
That Mother must assist the child;
And heav'nly guards must pitch their tents,
And range their ranks, in our defence.

III.

The world, the flesh, and Satan's rage,
Their differing wars against us wage:
And when their phantom-hosts come on,
The Sabbath of the heart is gone:

IV.

And storms confus'd above us low'r
Of hope and fear, and joy and woe;
And scarcely ev'n for one half-hour
Is silence in God's House below.

V.

That distant City, oh, how blest,
Whose feast-days know nor pause nor rest!
How gladsome is that Palace gate,
Round which nor fear nor sorrow wait!

VI.

Nor languor here, nor weary age,
Nor fraud, nor dread of hostile rage;
But one the joy, and one the song,
And one the heart of all the throng.

VII.

The Saints [the Saint] whose praise to-day we sing
Are [is] standing now before the Throne,
And face to face behold [beholds] the King
In all His Majesty made known.

VIII.

In that serene and glorious place,
When this life's many toils are past,
Christ, of His Everlasting Grace,
Grant us to join the Blest at last! Amen.

Interni festi gaudia.

MORNING HYMN for
ALL SAINTS or for any particular SAINT.

REV. vii., 14.—“These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.”

I.

INTERNI festi gaudia
Nostra sonet harmonia ;
Quo mens in se pacifica
Vera frequentat Sabbata :

II.

Mundi cordis lætitiâ
Odorans vera gaudia,
Quibus prægnat avidæ
Quæ sit sanctorum gloria :

III.

Quâ lætatur in Patriâ
Cœlicolarum curia,
Regem donantem præmia
Suâ cernans in gloria.

IV.

Beata illa Patria
Quæ nescit nisi gaudia !
Nam cives hujus Patriæ
Non cessant laudes canere.

V.

Quos ille dulcor afficit,
Quos nullus mœror inficit,
Quos nullus hostis impetit,
Nullusque turbo concutit.

VI.

Hoc in hâc valle miserâ
Meditetur mens sobria ;
Hoc per soporem sentiat,
Hæc attendat dum vigilat.

VII.

Quo, mundi post exilia,
Coronetur in patriâ ;
Hæc in decoris gloriâ
Regem laudans per sæcula. Amen.

I.

OUR festal strains to-day reveal
The joys that faithful spirits feel,
As often as the inmost heart
In these true Sabbaths bears a part.

II.

The pure of soul alone have grace
The future joys of Heav'n to trace,
And learn in foretaste sweet and rare
What glories deck the Blessed there :

III.

What bliss, in that celestial land,
They know, the bright Angelic band ;
Who see the King That crowns the fight
In all His Majesty of light.

IV.

Blest is that Country, ever blest,
Which knoweth nought save joy and rest !
Whose citizens for ever raise
The long unbroken chant of praise !

V.

Whom sweetness, more than earthly, fills ;
Who know no grief, and mourn no ills ;
Whom never more can foe alarm,
Nor storm approach to work them harm.

VI.

Let this our meditation be
Along the vale of misery ;
This occupy each sleeping hour,
And exercise each waking power.

VII.

Thus shall we gain, this exile past,
Our Country's Blessed Crown at last ;
Thus in His Glory shall adore
The King of Ages evermore. Amen.

Harum laudum præconia.

MORNING HYMN for
ALL SAINTS, or for any particular SAINT

REV. vii., 3, 8.—“I saw another Angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God : and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.”

I.

HARUM laudum præconia

II.

Cum, post peracta prælia,
Digna redduntur præmia ;
Pro passione rosea,
Pro castitate candida.

III.

Quam mens humana capere,
Nec lingua valet promere,
Donec vitæ victoria
Commutet hæc mortalia.

IV.

Ibi dies clarissima
Melior est quam millia,
Luce lucens præfulgidâ,
Plena Dei notitiâ.

V.

Hujus sequi vestigia,
Et prædicare dogmata,
Fide rectâ ac fervidâ,
Det nobis mater gratiæ. Amen.

I.

THE praises that the Blessed know
The Church shall imitate below,
Whene'er she greets, in yearly strain,
The birthdays of her Saints again.

II.

Now, all their battles past and gone,
The Crown of Glory is set on ;
For Chastity, as lily white,
For Martyrdom, as ruby bright.

III.

This cannot human fancy know,
Nor tongue of Men nor Angels shew,
Till endless life the vict'ry brings
That gives for earthly, heav'nly things.

IV.

One day of those most glorious rays
Is better than ten thousand days,
Refulgent with celestial light,
And with God's fullest knowledge bright.

V.

That we the Saints' blest lives may reach,
That we their blessed faith may teach,
May join above, and love below,
The Spirit of All Grace bestow ! Amen

Omnis consummationis
Finem vident jugiter.

III.

Suum cernunt tentatorem
In poenis perpetuo ;
Suum pium Salvatorem
Collaudant in júbilo ;
Quem et remuneratorem
Sentiant in præmio.

IV.

Nunc per speculum videmus,
Umbris et enigmatæ ;
Tunc ut noti cognoscemus
Pure, nude, lucide ;
Clarum visum nam figemus
En in lumen gloriæ.

V.

Personarum Trinitatem
Clare speculabimur ;
Essentiæ Unitatem
Nude contemplabimur ;
Unitatem, Trinitatem
In uno mirabimur.

VI.

Jam, homo, noli timere
Quæcunque gravamina ;
Per hæc vales obtinere
Tam immensa gaudia ;
Lucisque lumen videre
Per æterna sæcula.

VII.

Vitæ dator, summe Parens,
Tibi benedictio
Sit, laus, decus semper clarens,
Semper tuo Filio ;
Sit et honor fine carens
Inclito Paraclito. Amen.

I.

IF there be that skills to reckon
All the number of the Blest,
He, perchance, can weigh the gladness
Of the everlasting rest
Which, their earthly warfare finished,
They through suffering have possess.

II.

Through the vale of lamentation
Happily and safely past,
Now the years of their affliction
In their mem'ry they recast,
And the end of all perfection
They can contemplate at last.

III.

For they see their cruel Tempter
Suff'ring torments evermore ;
To the Saviour That redeemed them
Those redeemed ones praises pour ;
And the Monarch That rewards them
Those rewarded saints adore.

IV.

In a glass, through types and riddles,
Dwelling here, we see alone ;
Then serenely, purely, clearly,
We shall know as we are known ;
Fixing our enlighten'd vision
On the glory of the Throne.

V.

There the Trinity of Persons
Unbeclouded shall we see ;
There the Unity of Essence
Shall revealed in glory be ;
While we hail the Threefold Godhead,
And the simple Unity.

VI.

Wherefore, man, take heart and courage,
Whatsoe'er thy present pain ;
Such untold reward through suff'ring
Thou may'st merit to attain ;
And for ever in His Glory
With the Light of Light to reign.

VII.

Land and honour to the Father ;
Laud and honour to the Son ;
Laud and honour to the Spirit ;
Ever Three, and ever One :
Consubstantial, Co-eternal,
While unending ages run. Amen

HYMN FOR ALL SAINTS,

ISAIAH lxi. 4.—“Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.”

I.

JERUSÁLEM luminosa
Vera pacis visio,
Felix nimis et formosa,
Summi Regis mansio,
De te O quam gloriosa
Dicta sunt a sæculo !

II.

Lapidibus expolitiss
Structa tu mirifice,
Gemmis auro claris vitris
Decoraris undique ;
Portæ fulgent margaritis,
Plateæ sunt aureæ.

III.

In te jugitur jucundum
Alleluia canitur ;
Solemne ac lætabundum
Semper festum agitur ;
Totum sanctum, totum mundum,
In te quidquid cernitur.

IV.

In te nunquam nubilata
Aëris temperies ;
Sole solis illustrata
Semper est meridies ;
In te non nox fessis grata,
Nec labor nec iniquies.

V.

O quam vere gloriosum
Eris, corpus fragile,
Cum fueris tam formosum,
Forte, sanum, agile,
Liberum, voluptuosum,
In ævum durabile !

VI.

Nunc libenter ac ferventer
Laborum fer onera ;
Habeas ut [condecenter]
Dona tam magnifica ;
Doterisque luculenter
Gloriâ perpetuâ.

VII.

Eterne glorificata
Sit beata Trinitas,
A quâ celestis fundatur
Jerusálem civitas,
In quâ sibi frequentata
Sit laudis immensitas. Amen.

I.

LIGHT's abode, Celestial Salem,
Vision dear, whence peace hath spring,
Brighter than the heart can fancy,
Mansion of the Highest King ;
O how glorious are the praises
Which of thee the prophets sing !

II.

Thou with beauteous stones and polish'd
Wondrously art rear'd on high ;
Thou with precious gems and crystal
Decorated gloriously :
And with pearls thy portals glitter,
And with gold thy streets may vie.

III.

There for ever and for ever
Alleluia is out-pour'd :
For unending, for unbroken,
Is the feast-day of the Lord ;
All is pure, and all is holy
That within thy walls is stor'd.

IV.

There no cloud or passing vapour
Dims the brightness of the air ;
Endless noon-day, glorious noon-day,
From the Sun of suns is there ;
There no night brings rest from labour,
There unknown are toil and care.

V.

O how glorious and resplendent,
Fragile body, shalt thou be,
When endued with so much beauty,
Full of health, and strong, and free,
Full of vigour, full of pleasure,
That shall last eternally !

VI.

Now with gladness, now with courage,
Bear the burden on thee laid,
That hereafter these thy labours
May with endless gifts be paid :
And in everlasting glory
Thou with joy may'st be array'd.

VII.

Laud and honour to the Father ;
Laud and honour to the Son ;
Laud and honour to the Spirit ;
Ever Thine, and ever One :
Consubstantial, Co-eternal,
While unending ages run. Amen.

HYMN at the RESTORATION OF A CHURCH.

MACCAI II., 9.—"The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts : and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts."

I.

O BEATA Jerusalem,
Prædicanda civitas,
Quæ tuis læta triumphas
In supernis civibus,
Innovata Regis amplo
Claritatis stigmatè !

II.

Hic tui templi refulget
Sanctior memoria,
Jure restorationis
Lucido fundamini,
Quam decoris pollet acti
Dignitatis sidere.

III.

Te precamur hic adesse,
Conditor sanctissime :
Hicque promptus consecrandis
Sedibus inlabere ;
Atque, consecrator ipse,
Hic adesto jugiter.

IV.

Jam templum tui honoris
Effice nos servulos :
Non caro, non corla nostra
Militent discrimini :
Sed tuo sacro dicati
Serviamus nomini.

V.

Regis hic altare summi
Sit cornuscum lumine :
Sit honore mancipatum,
Sit repletum munere :
Sit beatum, sit serenum,
Sit placens regi Deo.

VI.

Hic tibi nostrorum alma
Cordium altaria
Consecra, superne Judex,
Innovans nos gratiâ :
Sedibus illapsa donans
De supernis munera.

VII.

Ut tibi per omne sæculum,
Trinitas sanctissima,
Sit honor, immensa virtus,
Et perennis gloria,
Qui Deus in Trinitate,
Permanes in sæcula. Amen.

I.

BLESSED City, Heav'nly Salem,
Land of glory, land of rest ;
Joyous ever and triumphant
In the armies of the blest ;
Where the King, thy grace renewing,
Doth His Glory manifest :

II.

Now and henceforth this thy temple
Shall a holier mem'ry own,
By the right of restoration
From the old foundation-stone,
Than the former house, here builded,
Had in other ages known.

III.

Come Thou now, and be among us,
Lord and Maker, while we pray :
Let Thy presence fill the Temple
Which we dedicate to-day ;
And, Thyself its Consecrator,
Dwell within its walls away !

IV.

Grant that all Thy faithful people
May Thy truer Temple be ;
Neither flesh, nor soul, nor spirit
Know another Lord than Thee :
But to Thee once dedicated,
Serve Thee everlastingly.

V.

Bright be here the Monarch's Altar
With the presents that we bring ;
Held in holy veneration,
Rich with many an offering ;
Ever hallow'd, ever quiet,
Ever dear to God its King !

VI.

Here our souls as Thy true Altars
Deign to hallow and to bless,
O thou future Judge of all men,
With Thy grace and holiness ;
That Thy gifts, sent down from Heaven,
We may evermore possess.

VII.

Laud and honour to the Father ;
Laud and honour to the Son ;
Laud and honour to the Spirit ;
Ever Three, and ever One :
Consubstantial, Co-eternal,
While unending ages run. Amen.

O . . . O - - - ri - ent, Brightness of the e - ter - nal Light,

The first system of music for 'Oriens' consists of a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). It begins with a half note 'O', followed by a dotted half note 'O', and then a quarter note 'ri'. The piano accompaniment is written on two staves (treble and bass clefs) and features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the right hand and a more active bass line in the left hand.

O King of the Gen - tiles, and their De - sire,

The first system of music for 'Rex Gentium' features a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. It begins with a half note 'O', followed by a dotted half note 'O', and then a quarter note 'Rex'. The piano accompaniment is written on two staves and features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the right hand and a more active bass line in the left hand.

APPENDIX.

In the Second Part of the Accompanying Harmonies to the Hymnal Noted, the Editors have completed the works undertaken about seven years ago, the object and nature of which have already been fully explained, both in the Preface to these Harmonies, and in the Prospectuses, and other Notices, which have from time to time appeared in a separate form.

Some portions of these, which it seemed desirable to preserve, are herein reprinted.

It will have been seen that, in the Harmonies of the Second Part, slurs have been used instead of the thick lines substituted for them in the First. It is hoped that this change will correct the too common error of playing these passages faster than the other notes of the same value, against which a caution was inserted in the Preface, at page iii.

The Editors desire here to record their grateful acknowledgements to all who have in any way aided them in their arduous undertaking: particularly to the Dean and Chapter of Salisbury Cathedral, for the loan of the Sarum Gradual, preserved in their Library; to Messrs. Cruse and Sullivan, for their valuable contributions to the Harmonies; and to Mr. Lonsdale, for his kind permission to use Sir Henry Bishop's beautiful setting of the Alla beata Trinita: nor can they pass unrecorded the uniform zeal and cordial co-operation of their Publisher and Printer, Mr. J. Alfred Novello.

Such Harmonies as are without the Author's name, are by the Rev. T. Helmore, the Musical Editor of the First Part.

In the Second Part, the Editorial responsibility has been shared among five members of the Ecclesiological Society's Committee,—viz: for the letter-press, the Rev. Messrs. J. M. Neale and B. Webb; for the music, the Rev. Messrs. S. S. Greatheed, T. Helmore, and H. L. Jenner.

The following is the substance of the Prospectuses, and other Notices, which have before been separately printed:—

FIRST PROSPECTUS.

It is needless to prove the acknowledged want of an English Hymnal. It is as needless to dwell on the inconveniences and mischief which have arisen from the various Selections of Metrical Psalms and Hymns by which it has been attempted to supply the deficiency.

The Committee of the Ecclesiological Society has resolved on making an attempt to introduce a Hymnal on that which it conceives to be the only legitimate principle.

This principle is, to give the ancient Hymns of the English Church, and principally of the Sarum Service Books, to their old melodies.

The attempt has never been made before; and the Committee earnestly desire that it may be carried out in the completest possible manner.

The Sarum Books contain about 150 Hymns;—about 90 of these will be issued in the proposed work.

The publication will consist of three distinct parts:—1, The words by themselves, published in as cheap a form as possible, for the use of congregations. 2, The words noted (on the same principle as the "Psalter Noted" of Mr. Helmore), for the use of choirs and others who sing. 3, The harmonies, composed on Gregorian principles.

The two latter parts are now appearing at irregular intervals: each part containing from 16 to 30 pages.

When half the words have been prepared, that half will be published separately by itself. The Hymns of this first half are so selected, as, in a certain manner, to embrace the whole course of the Church's year; to which greater completeness and precision will afterwards be added by the second half.

The annexed Synopsis will give a general idea of the Hymnal. * * * *

The Committee earnestly request assistance from all persons interested in the subject; while they cannot, of course, pledge themselves to adopt, either wholly or in part, any translations with which they may be assisted, it is clear that such help can hardly fail of suggesting some happy expression, or better rendering, and may be most highly valuable to them.

The Synopsis which followed was similar to that here printed for use, with all the revisions subsequently made in working out the original plan.

SYNOPSIS OF THE HYMNAL NOTED.

[The Evening Hymns on Festivals are put before the Morning Hymns, because, like the Collects, they are said at the Even-song of the day before, as well as on the day itself (except where otherwise marked). In some Books of the Words, published subsequently to the completion of the Work, the Hymns are arranged and numbered according to their places in this Synopsis, as printed on the left of the page. In the Editions published in two Parts, the First contains forty-six Hymns; consequently, any Hymn of a higher number must be looked for in the Second Part. The numbers of the Hymns, as first printed in these two Parts, are here given on the right of the page.]

N.B.—* means that the Hymn is also sung at the First Vespers of the Festival, i.e., the Evening Service of the day before,—† at the Second Vespers, i.e., the Evening Service of the day itself.

END OF SYNOPSIS.

OF THE VARIOUS EDITIONS OF THE HYMNAL.

The Hymnal is still published in the three forms mentioned in the Preface, at page ii. Of the Words alone there are several editions, as may be seen in the second Prospectus, the substance of which is here reprinted, with slight additions.

SECOND PROSPECTUS.

- I.—A HYMNAL NOTED; or Translations of the Ancient Hymns of the Church, set to their proper Melodies.—Parts 1 and 2, price 2s. 6d. each, in paper covers, or the two parts bound in one vol., cloth, 5s.
- II.—ACCOMPANYING HARMONIES TO THE HYMNAL NOTED. Parts 1 and 2, bound in cloth, 6s. 6d. each; or the two parts bound in one vol., cloth, 10s. 6d.
- III.—THE WORDS OF THE HYMNAL, in a cheap form.—Part 1, price 2d. Part 2, price 4d.
- THE WORDS OF THE HYMNAL COMPLETE; being the two parts combined in the proper sequence of the whole course of the Church's Year. Cheap edition, cloth, 8d.
- THE WORDS OF THE HYMNAL COMPLETE; being the two parts combined, with the addition of Scripture References. Cloth, price 1s. 6d.

THE HYMNAL NOTED.—The increased attention paid of late years to the music of the Church has necessarily led to inquiry into the best mode of reviving the use of metrical Hymns; and where the Prayer Book Psalter, pointed by authority, is sung (as it always should be), the ordinary metrical versions of the Psalms are no longer found to satisfy either the religious wants or the musical tastes of Christians. To supply the want universally felt, and very generally acknowledged, the Ecclesiological Society have laboured with great care, for some time past, to procure good translations of the Hymns which have been written by such holy men as S. Hilary, S. Ambrose, Prudentius, Sedulius, S. Ennodius, and S. Gregory, in the earlier ages of the Church; by Fortunatus, the Venerable Bede, S. Bernard, Hildebert, S. Thomas Aquinas, S. Notker, Godescalcus, and Adam of S. Victor, in mediæval times; and by Santolius Victorinus, since the revival of classical learning.

From these authors are derived the original metrical Hymns which the whole Western Church incorporated into her Liturgy. The Reformers of the English Church wished, but were unable, to translate them; Archbishop Cranmer desired that as his "English verses wanted the grace and faculty which he could wish they had," the king "would cause some other to do them into more pleasant English and phrase."*

The First Part of a Hymnal, intended to supply from these proper sources an orderly course of Hymns for the Christian year, has now for some time been found of eminent service in those Churches where it has been used; and a Second Part, to complete the work, is now published.

The music is that to which, with slight variations, these Hymns have been universally sung; it is taken principally from ancient records of the English use, now extant in the British Museum. These melodies are eminently adapted for Congregational use, and have been proved to answer better on the whole than more modern tunes. The harmonies are composed on the model of the great Harmonists of the best periods of Church Music.

The complete words of the Hymnal Noted have now appeared; the Second Part is also published separately, for the convenience of those who already possess the First. An index obviates all the difficulty that might otherwise arise from the different numbering of the complete edition, and of the two parts.

The complete edition appears in two forms. 1. The cheapest, containing the words alone; the price is eightpence for a single copy. 2. With references to Holy Scripture. The variety and depth of Scriptural reference in early and mediæval hymns are so extraordinary, that half the meaning may easily be

* Vide Collier's Ec. Hist., Vol. II., p. 30 (or 8vo. edition, Vol. V., p. 147). Procter on Ek. of Com. Fr., p. 174.

The analogies of the Reformation confirm this view: e.g., the Waldenses, Lollards, and Bohemian brethren sung translations of most of the Catholic Hymns, and Luther versified many.—Burney, Hist. of Music, III., p. 30.

The Lutherans retained the Hymns of the ancient offices.—Hawkins, Hist. of Music, Bk. IX., Chap. LXXXII. (or 8vo. edition, Vol. I., p. 387.)

missed even by those who would consider themselves excellent Biblical scholars. It is suggested that, besides its obvious uses, this edition is particularly calculated for an employment in which the Hymnal has been found very useful—catechising.

Where centos are mentioned in the following list, it will be understood, almost universally, that they are such as have been in general use in the employment of the Hymn, and not any abbreviation of our own.

In order to enable the reader, who may be interested in the study of Hymnology, to refer to the original, the eight editions, most easily procured, are here added; and a reference is given in the list to the page of each on which any Hymn is to be found.

Circ. 400.	41	—	16.	All hail! ye infant martyr flowers. Salvete flores martyrum. A cento from the 12th hymn of the Cathemerinon of Prudentius. This hymn is not found in any of the English Hymnals; which merely employ that from the Common of Martyrs. C. 124, G. 22.
Circ. 420.	42	—	17.	Why, impious Herod, vainly fear. Hostis Herodes impie. A cento from the same hymn of Sedulius from which No. 34 is derived. A. 42, B. 23, C. 147, G. 22, H. 359.
Circ. 1140.	43	—	18.	JESU, the very thought is sweet. Jesu dulcis memoria. A cento from the hymn called the Jubilus of S. Bernard, and known to the mediæval writers as the " Rosy Hymn. " A. 142, C. 227.
"	44	—	72.	Another cento from the same, arranged as a sequence.
? 14 or 15.	45	—	73.	O love, how deep, how broad, how high. O amor quam extaticus. A cento. D. 67.
? 11.	46	—	74.	Alleluia, song of sweetness. Alleluia, dulce carmen. A hymn which refers to the universal custom in the Western Church of the disuse of Alleluia, either from the Eve of Septuagesima Sunday, or in some few instances from Shrove Tuesday. Its repetition during the week of Septuagesima is thus beautifully alluded to by S. Hildebert, in a sermon on that Sunday. (Opp. Ed. Beaugendre, p. 296.) "Moreover this day, which is, as it were, the gate of the fast, and takes away from us the song of joy, that is, Alleluia, shows our state of penitence and sorrow, teaching us that we ought to cease from immoderate joy, and remain in the tears of repentance. We therefore repeat its name again and again, and address Alleluia itself, desirous of retaining it as a guest, and saying to it, Abide with us, for the day is far spent; and we then give it our last farewell, saying, The good angel of the Lord accompany thee, that thou mayest return again to us; that we may know that we shall not have perfect joy until, renewed by the Body and Blood of the Redeemer, we receive with gladness that song." B. 59, C. 261, F. 92.
? 6 or 7.	47	—	75.	The fast, as taught by holy lore. Ex more docti mystico. Some consider this hymn to be the composition of S. Gregory the Great. A. 44, B. 62, C. 96, D. 94, G. 25, H. 361.
6.	48	—	20.	O Maker of the world, give ear. Audi benigne Conditor. A hymn of S. Gregory the Great. A. 48, B. 63, C. 178, D. 95, G. 27, H. 362.
? 8 or 9.	49	—	19.	Lo, now is our accepted day. Ecce tempus idoneum. A. 50, B. 72, C. 182, H. 360.
? 11 or 12.	50	—	21.	JESU, the Law and Pattern whence. Jesu, quadragenarie. A. 52, B. 77, C. 5, G. 29, H. 360.
Circ. 570.	51	—	22.	The Royal Banners forward go. Vexilla regis prodeunt. This hymn was composed by S. Venantius Fortunatus, on occasion of the reception at Poitiers, by S. Radegund, of a portion of the True Cross, sent by the Emperor of Constantinople. A. 53, B. 79, C. 160, G. 30, H. 364.
Circ. 570.	52	—	23.	Sing, my tongue, the glorious battle. Pange, lingua gloriosi. This and the next hymn originally formed but one, and are also by S. Venantius Fortunatus. A. 56, B. 132, C. 163, G. 31, H. 363.
"	53	—	24.	Thirty years among us dwelling. Lustra sex qui jam peracta.
Circ. 810.	54	—	76.	Glory, and laud, and honour. Gloria, laus, et honor. This hymn is said to have been composed by S. Theodulph at Metz, while imprisoned by the Emperor Louis; and to have been sung on Palm Sunday by choristers trained by him, as that monarch was on his way to the cathedral. The bishop was instantly liberated. C. 215, H. 366.
1264.	55	—	77.	The Word of God proceeding forth. Verbum supernum prodiens. One of the hymns composed by S. Thomas Aquinas, on occasion of the institution of the festival of Corpus Christi. A. 82, B. 123, C. 254, G. 45, H. 377.
Circ. 1020.	56	—	23.	Ye choirs of New Jerusalem. Chorus novæ Jerusalem. A hymn of S. Fulbert of Chartres. A. 59, B. 90, C. 222, D. 219, G. 37.
10 or 11.	57	—	30.	JESU, Who brought'st Redemption nigh. Jesu, Salvator sæculi. A. 61, B. 92, G. 38, H. 424.
? 9.	58	—	26.	Light's glittering morn bedecks the sky. Aurora lucis rutilat. This and the next hymn were originally one. A. 62, B. 94, C. 83, D. 190, G. 36, H. 371.
"	59	—	27.	With gentle voice the Angel gave. Sermone blando Angelus. Ditto.
? 11.	60	—	28.	To the Paschal Victim. Victimæ Paschali. This celebrated hymn is probably of Italian origin, and is one of the few that escaped the general devastation of Sequences in the "Reformation" of the Roman Breviary. C. 95, G. 166.
?	61	—	78.	The strain upraise. Cantemus cuncti. This celebrated composition, the Alleluistic Sequence, was employed, like No. 46, at Septuagesima; but as the modern English Church gives so little prominence to that season, Easter would seem to be a more appropriate place for its introduction. C. 52, D. 88.
Circ. 570.	62	—	79.	Hail, festal day. Salve, festa dies. This processional hymn is a cento from the poem of S. Venantius Fortunatus, addressed to S. Felix, on the Resurrection. C. 169, H. 368.
? 14.	63	—	80.	On the morn of Easter Day. Mane primæ Sabbati. C. 255, D. 224, G. 167.
? 7.	64	—	29.	The LAMB's high banquet. Ad cœnam Agni providi. This hymn appears to have been composed for the use of those who had received Baptism on Easter Eve, and were about to communicate on the following day. A. 65, B. 99, C. 88, D. 217, G. 38, H. 370.

	No. in Complete Edition.	No. in Parts I. and II.
12 or 13. ? 5.	65 —	81.	Ye sons and daughters of the King. O filii et filiae.
